HANOVER YOUTH IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Leonard Zinn, 19, Hanover, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter by an Adams county jury at 12:10 o'clock this afternoon.

The verdict was read to the court at 1:30 o'clock after having been sealed from the time the jury completed its deliberations.

Zinn was the driver of a car which at 2 a. m., November 15, struck a car driven by Pvt. Milton Manbeck at York Springs. As a result of the collision a Laureldale soldier was killed.

The Zinn jury retired at 11:30 o'clock to deliberate its verdict. The testimony of two witnesses, the summation of the case by District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., and the defense attorney, Richard A. Brown, Esq., and the charge to the jury by Judge W. C. Sheely concluded work on the case this morning.

Immediately the court began trial of Leo Nace, East Berlin R. D., charged with forgery.

The two witnesses to take the stand this morning were Francis Altland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Altland, Abbotstown, and Burrell Raubenstine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raubenstine, Hanover, both occupants of the Zinn car.

The three soldiers surviving the accident, Pfc. Milton Manbeck, Ono, Pennsylvania, the driver of the car; Pfc. Earl Funk, Lebanon R. 3, and Pfc. William Kelly, Kingston, testified Monday afternoon. They had been driving from Harrisburg to Fort Myer, Virginia, and were passing through York Springs when the Zinn car "shot out of a side road into our path," the soldiers testified. Manbeck said he had noticed the intersection and had slowed but that the car shot in front of him too quickly to do anything about it.

Didn't Remember
Zinn on the stand told the court his version of the accident beginning with a ride by the four youths to Carlisle from Hanover, a trip to a roller skating rink and trips to Mt. Holly Springs before returning to Hanover about 2 a. m. on the morning of November 15. They were driving through York Springs when the accident occurred.

Zinn was asked by Defense Attorney Brown if he had stopped at the stop sign on the Hanover-Carlisle road before entering the intersection with the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road. He answered, "I don't remember."

Harold Little, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Little, Hanover, and brother of the owner of the car Zinn was driving, was the only witness to say that Zinn had halted at the stop sign.

Little told the jury that Zinn had (Please Turn to Page 2)

Responsibilities To Youth Is Subject Of Rotary Club Meeting

The Rotarian, as an individual member of the home, church, school and community, has a tremendous responsibility to the youth of the nation, Roy Knouse, Littlestown, owner of a canning factory at Silver Run, Maryland, told the local Rotary at its regular meeting Monday evening at the YWCA.

Juvenile delinquency is caused mostly by the failure of the four great influences, the home, church, school and community, Knouse said. He urged the members to make it their individual responsibility as Rotarians to overcome that failure. "We are calling upon the youngsters to build a world much better than the one we made. They must have the tools, and those tools—education, character and religion—must be given to them in perfect shape, not tarnished or broken, if they are to succeed where we failed."

Radioman, second class, Robert Finger, Lancaster, who is visiting various clubs and plants of the county in connection with the Fourth War Loan, spoke on his experiences in the South Pacific and urged the continued purchase of more bonds. He was introduced by Paul D. Thomas.

Thirty-three members and eight guests attended the session with President Frederick Tilberg presiding.

LIFTS VISITORS' BAN
Dr. C. G. Crist, physician for the Adams county jail and county home, announced today that he has lifted the ban on visitors at the two institutions. He asks that all persons having colds refrain from visiting inmates at either place.

The Mary Wolfe Slents Beauty Shop will be closed from Feb. 12 to March 6.

Crew Fights Bomber Blaze, Ack-ack Fire; Returns Safely

By FRED HAMPSON
An Advanced South Pacific Air-base, Jan. 25 (Tuesday) (AP) — A 13th AAF Liberator bomber, blazing like a torch, flew through sheets of anti-aircraft fire—yet brought all but one of her crewmen home.

A shell fragment caused an explosion amidships during the bombing run over Rabaul last Saturday night.

"We all thought this was the end," said Lt. Joseph Binder, Milwaukee, Wis., the pilot.

"The boys went to work (fighting the fire) but the tall gunner thought it was hopeless and bailed out over Rabaul."

Fighting the flames from the rear, S. Sgt. Robert E. Brink, Eagles Mere, Pa., and S. Sgt. Richard L. Hoskins, Lake Hamilton, Fla., gunners, tossed out burning metal fragments and cotton fibre with their bare hands.

There were still five bombs in the racks, covered with burning rubber and gasoline. Lt. John Birchfield, Los Angeles, tossed them out by hand through the bomb bay doors.

Forty Japanese searchlights swung toward the craft and ack-ack was concentrated on it. In the nose compartment, Bombardier Lt. Robert W. Bjornhoj, Quincy, Mass., used a fire extinguisher until it was empty, then with his bare hands threw out the burning windscreen curtain.

Binder and Lt. Goulding Swift, Lake Charles, La., co-pilot, eluded the anti-aircraft fire by diving and twisting.

Enroute home, first aid was administered to the burned men by Lt. Joseph Slater, Cohoes, N. Y., extra co-pilot. Binder landed at his home base with a flat tire on the nose wheel.

If the isolated tall gunner had stayed aboard, "he'd be here to have a drink with us now," said Binder.

Warrant Officer Home On Leave

William T. Timmins, Buford avenue, arrived home over the weekend to spend a 30-day foreign duty leave.

Warrant Officer Timmins, who has been in the Navy Seabees since last May has been on foreign duty for some time during which he was twice injured on non-combat duty. He injured his right shoulder and cut a gash on his head for which he received treatment aboard ship.

WALKIE-TALKIE IS TESTED HERE

Residents of Gettysburg who may have seen a young man walking about the square or some of the streets of the borough about 11 o'clock Monday night apparently talking to himself need not worry about the gentleman's sanity.

The young man performing the strange actions was Edgar Raffensperger, South Stratton street, and the talking he was doing was over a "walkie-talkie" radio set that is part of the county civilian defense corps communication set-up which was tested during the latter part of the evening.

The "walkie-talkie" home-built by Wilbur Baker turned in its best performance so far in the test Monday evening. Raffensperger carried the mechanism from the court house to the square and then down Chambersburg street to North Washington, along North Washington to Water, across Water to Carlisle street and back to the court house.

Throughout the trip he was in constant communication with the two-way radio at the county court center in the basement of the court house, with reception being out at only a few places where interference from overhanging store signs, or electric transformers on poles temporarily interfered with communication.

The set includes a battery carried on a sling over the shoulder, a small transmitter with a vertical aerial similar to the ones used on cars and a French telephone into which the operator speaks or hears the messages sent to him over the two-way set.

Brooder House And 160 Chicks Burned

A brooder house and 160 baby chickens were destroyed by flames on the former John W. McIlhenny farm, a mile north of Gettysburg on the Harrisburg road, about 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The flames, which killed the day-old chicks which had been placed in the brooder Monday, started from a hot coal that fell from the stove to the hay litter when Mrs. W. E. Jordan, wife of the tenant of the farm, was cleaning out the ashes. Mrs. Jordan saved about 40 of the chicks while escaping from the building. The Gettysburg fire company was called.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

First Lt. and Mrs. Lester M. Clewell, Camp San Luis, California, announce the birth of a daughter Monday evening, Mrs. Clewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Felix, Gettysburg R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Pittsburgh, announce the birth of a son, George Edward, January 20. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Gettysburg college with the class of 1940. While a student here he was secretary to Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director.

Bond Sales Top Quarter Million Mark

Adams county's participation in the Fourth War Bond drive topped the quarter-million dollar mark today with sales totalling $257,615.50, Elmer Warren, tabulating daily returns, announced this noon.

The total sales at the close of business Monday reached $254,655.25 far below the anticipated figure of War Finance committee heads.

If Adams county expects to reach its quota of $2,047,600 it must sell an average of $92,904.33 every day during the remaining 19 days of the campaign.

Mr. Warren said that every issuing agent reported Monday's sales with the exception of the post offices. Reports from those sources were expected sometime this afternoon.

Miss Helen McClellan, member of the Fairfield high school faculty and in charge of sales at schools there reported bond and stamp purchases totalling $3,016.60 up to Monday.

Officials of the War Finance committee in the county are considering a door-to-door canvass of the entire county in an effort to stimulate sales during the current drive.

"It is apparent that many residents have not been contacted thus far in the campaign," one official commented today, "and it may be necessary to visit every home in the county in order to reach each person who wants to purchase bonds."

Mutual Insurance Company Elects

Managers of the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance company at a recent meeting reelected Harvey A. Scott, Gettysburg R. D., as president and named these other officers: Theron W. Spangler, Littlestown, vice president; J. E. Musselman, Gettysburg, treasurer, and Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., secretary.

The following were named managers at the recent annual meeting of the policyholders of the company: Mr. Scott, Mr. Spangler; J. Preston Smith, McSherrystown; John N. Hersh, New Oxford; J. Monroe Danner, East Berlin; H. E. Pearson, York Springs; Mrs. R. A. L. Raffensperger, Arendtsville; Charles J. Toot, Howard Knouse, Walter A. Keeney and Mr. McPherson, all of Gettysburg.

Legion Auxiliary Lists 152 Members

Listing five new members, including two wives of veterans of World War II, members of the Auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of the American Legion announced a new membership total of 152, an unusually high figure for January.

The new members are Mrs. Clyde Kennedy, York Springs; Mrs. John Bollinger, Miss Jeanette Trostle and Miss Frances Bly, all of Gettysburg, and Miss Eva Jane Schwartz, Littlestown R. D.

APPOINTMENTS GIVEN 200 AS BLOOD DONORS

More than 200 Adams countians Monday received "appointments to save a life" as volunteer donors for the twelfth visit here Friday of the blood receiving unit of the Red Cross from Harrisburg. Appointments begin at noon and continue throughout the afternoon with the minimum goal for the day set at 150 points.

On the first anniversary visit of the Donor Service unit to this county, the local chapter hopes to set the pace for the year in which at least 1,800 pints of blood are sought to reach the goal of "a pint of blood for every man in the service."

Last year volunteers gave 1,225 pints of blood on 11 Donors Days. The last volunteers gave blood in November. No visit was made here last month.

Radford H. Lippy, Blood Donor Donor Service chairman for the county, explained today that more than 200 appointments were made in the hope that absentees and rejections would leave 150 or more acceptable donors. Colds and grip push the absentees and rejection figures specially high at this time of year, he pointed out, and urged that persons with appointments, who find they will be unable to keep them for any reason, notify him as soon as possible so that substitutes may be called from a list of volunteers.

Listing New Donors

A campaign is being made to secure new donors for the Donor Service registry and new names are being added daily, Mr. Lippy said. New donors may register either at Lippy's store on Chambersburg street or at the Red Cross office in the court house.

Local trained nurses and nurses' aides again will serve at the donor station in the basement of the Christ Lutheran church. Regular staff members of the local Red Cross chapter will handle registrations this time, relieving Mr. Lippy, Dr. Dwight F. Putman and Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, who have served for past sessions. Mrs. Earl. Bowen and Mrs. P. J. McGlynn have been assigned to that work for Friday. Mrs. Radford Lippy and Mrs. George W. Boehner will continue their regular staff duties at the station.

Gettysburg college coeds who are members of the Delta Gamma and Chi Omega fraternities will serve in the dining room, Friday, while a group of East Berlin women headed by Mrs. Elmer Gruver will be in charge in the kitchen.

NEW SPONSORS LISTED FOR BALL

Twenty additional sponsors and four contributions from schools for the Birthday Ball to be held at Hotel Gettysburg next Monday evening for the benefit of the infantile paralysis fund were announced today by Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, county chairman.

The new sponsors follow: Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis Weigle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Yoder, Gettysburg Lions club, Gettysburg Elks club, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, Capt. and Mrs. Roy S. Gifford, Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Foth, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Mountain, Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, Gettysburg Rotary club, Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, Gettysburg Loyal Order of Moose, Gettysburg Times, F. and T. restaurant, American Legion Post 202.

Additional schools making contributions were Moritz's, Mrs. Elizabeth Group, teacher, $2; Mount Pleasant Grammar, Mrs. Gertrude Renner, teacher, $2.30; Locust Grove, Gladys Robert, teacher $2, and Stauffer's, Mary K. Dissinger, teacher, $2.

REBEKAHS INVITED

Members of the Rebekah lodge of Gettysburg have been specially invited to attend the observance of the 125th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America by Thomas J. Wildey to be conducted at the weekly meeting of the local Odd Fellows lodge this evening in the lodge rooms. The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh is to be the speaker.

Second, Baker's Bakery Service.

British Troops In New Italian Landing

British troops move up on Bren carriers from the beach at the point of a new Allied landing on the west coast of Italy, behind German battle lines, to take positions in the invasion thrust. This British Army Film Unit photo was received in New York by OWI radio.

OFFICERS ARE REELECTED BY HOSPITAL AUX.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Baltimore street, was re-elected president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Warner hospital for a fourth term Monday at the group's annual re-organization meeting and tea.

All the officers were re-elected with Mrs. B. G. Walter, Biglerville, as first vice president; Mrs. J. R. Riden, Littlestown, second vice president; Mrs. Harry Boyle, Emmitsburg, third vice president; Miss Mary Ramer, secretary and Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, treasurer.

Reports On Activities
Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart, chairman of the membership committee, reported 197 active members in the auxiliary, 17 honorary members and said that five organizations are affiliated with the auxiliary.

Mrs. A. A. Hughes, house committee chairman, announced that $600 was spent by the Auxiliary during the last year to purchase furniture and draperies for parts of the nurses' home and some of the patient's rooms.

A total of 274 articles were made for the operating room, Mrs. Anna Misher, chairman of the sewing committee, reported. An additional 269 articles were made for the nursery and 198 for the hospital proper. A total of 653 articles were marked with the hospital name.

Rev. Fox Speaks
No complete report was made on the annual food drive, with some sections reporting that they plan to hold their portion of the drive in (Please Turn to Page 5)

Lions Club Plans Ladies' Night, Feb. 7

A V-mail letter from William A. Beales, immediate past president of the Gettysburg Lions club now serving with the Seabees at Pearl Harbor, was read at the weekly dinner meeting of the service club on Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant. Beales formerly was stationed at Camp Peary, Virginia.

J. B. Collins, chairman of the auditing committee, presented that group's report and general arrangements for a Ladies' Night program to be held Monday evening, February 7, were announced. Clubman who have not already done so were urged to enroll as volunteer blood donors.

Radioman 2-C Robert Finger, here in the interest of the Fourth War Bond drive, told the clubmen of some of his experiences in the PT boat service in the Pacific. He was introduced by Paul D. Thomas of the county war bond committee.

The club voted a contribution to the annual campaign of the President's Birthday party committee.

COUNTY BOARD ADOPTS POLICY ON SICK LEAVE

The Adams county school board went on record Monday night as favoring sick-leave for the teachers in the county's schools and then appointed a committee comprising L. E. Jacobs, C. J. Waybright and Z. R. Peters, all members of the board, to set up a model "sick-leave" program to be suggested to the various local boards for action.

The decision was made following a discussion on the question of sick leaves by the board members at their January meeting held in the office of the county superintendent of schools at the court house. Clyde A. McCauslin, principal of the Franklin township consolidated school, told the board of the success of the sick-leave plan which has been in operation in the Franklin township schools for the last five years. He also told of the findings of a committee of the county unit of the Pennsylvania State Education association of which he is chairman, which was directed to make a study of the sick-leave arrangements in other school districts. Mr. Anson Hamm, Fairfield principal, president of the county PSEA, also outlined various plans for sick-leave.

Study Many Plans
Board members pointed out that such a program would better the education of the county's youngsters because "teachers who are sick but still are able to stand, come to school to teach because they are penalized if they are absent through illness." As one member expressed it, "It was pointed out that if each (Please Turn to Page 5)

APPIAN WAY, COASTAL ROAD ARE SEVERED

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor
The Berlin radio indicated today that American troops had driven within 22 miles of Rome and cut the Appian Way and main coastal railway by capturing Velletri, 18 miles northeast of Nettuno.

"American troops are finding debris and ashes there after their own bombs transformed the little town into a heap of ruins," the radio report said. Velletri is on the Appian Way and only nine miles from the Via Casilina, the inland highway leading to the Cassino battlefield to the south.

Allied headquarters announced only that American and British troops had advanced 12 miles inland. The Germans were reported shifting their troops from the Cassino-Garigliano front in the south to meet the new threat to Rome. A headquarters officer said Hitler, desperately needing a victory, "may decide to throw great forces into Italy and tell his generals they must produce a victory at any cost."

(The Geneva newspaper La Suisse quoted the Fascist press today as announcing that Allied forces now had occupied the entire 30-mile coastal stretch from Nettuno to the mouth of the Tiber, and were threatening Ostia, the port of Rome, three miles up the river. OWI reported this dispatch.)

Down 9 Planes

German planes made their strongest attacks yesterday seeking to halt sea-borne reinforcements, and battled over the invasion bridgehead, but lost nine planes.

The Allied spearhead met "hastily organized battle groups" of Germans, apparently moved northward from the Fifth Army front around Cassino.

The Nazis still were launching fierce counterattacks on that main front, but these blows have decreased somewhat in number and intensity in the last 24 hours, indicating that enemy forces were being pulled back to meet the invasion flanking threat.

The beachhead has been lengthened, headquarters declared, without disclosing the area it covers. Reinforcements and supplies continued to pour in with little enemy interference, and the communiqué said the town of Anzio, bordering to the west, had been taken.

Near Rail Line

(The United Nations radio at Algiers said the troops striking inland were within a mile of the double-track Rome-Naples electric rail line. The broadcast was recorded by the OWI.)

Fierce fighting raged on the American sector along the Rapido river near Cassino with heavy fire by all kinds of weapons.

U. S. patrols recrossed the stream to probe enemy defenses, but no counteroffensive was launched by the Americans to keep a force on the western bank. The Germans, who on Sunday hurled the Americans back across the river, made no attempts to cross to the eastern bank.

French troops in the northernmost area beat back several more enemy counterattacks, and a hot battle swirled for the Mt. Croce area.

British Gains

British troops kept their bridgehead across the Garigliano river on the left flank of the Fifth Army line despite new Nazi counterblows, and made some gains in the (Please Turn to Page 2)

First Lt. and Mrs. Lester M. Clewell, Camp San Luis, California, announce the birth of a daughter Monday evening. Mrs. Clewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Felix, Gettysburg R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Pittsburgh, announce the birth of a son, George Edward, January 20. Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Gettysburg college with the class of 1940. While a student here he was secretary to Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director.

Bond Sales Top Quarter Million Mark

Adams county's participation in the Fourth War Bond drive topped the quarter-million dollar mark today with sales totalling $257,615.50, Elmer Warren, tabulating daily returns, announced this noon.

The total sales at the close of business Monday reached $254,655.25 far below the anticipated figure of War Finance committee heads.

If Adams county expects to reach its quota of $2,047,600 it must sell an average of $92,904.38 every day during the remaining 19 days of the campaign.

Mr. Warren said that every issuing agent reported Monday's sales with the exception of the post offices. Reports from those sources were expected sometime this afternoon.

Miss Helen McClellan, member of the Fairfield high school faculty and in charge of sales at schools there reported bond and stamp purchases totalling $3,016.60 up to Monday.

Officials of the War Finance committee in the county are considering a door-to-door canvass of the entire county in an effort to stimulate sales during the current drive.

"It is apparent that many residents have not been contacted thus far in the campaign," one official commented today, "and it may be necessary to visit every home in the county in order to reach each person who wants to purchase bonds."

Mutual Insurance Company Elects

Managers of the Adams County Mutual Fire Insurance company at a recent meeting reelected Harvey A. Scott, Gettysburg R. D., as president and named these other officers: Theron W. Spangler, Littlestown, vice president; J. E. Musselman, Gettysburg, treasurer, and Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., secretary.

The following were named managers at the recent annual meeting of the policyholders of the company: Mr. Scott, Mr. Spangler; J. Preston Smith, McSherrytown; John N. Hersh, New Oxford; J. B. Pearson, York Springs; Mrs. E. A. L. Raffensperger, Arendtsville; Charles J. Toot, Howard Knouse, Walter A. Keeney and Mr. McPherson, all of Gettysburg.

Legion Auxiliary Lists 152 Members

Listing five new members, including two wives of veterans of World War II, members of the Auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of the American Legion announced a new membership total of 152, an unusually high figure for January.

The new members are Mrs. Clyde Kennedy, York Springs; Mrs. John Bollinger, Miss Jeanette Trostle and Miss Frances Bly, all of Gettysburg, and Miss Eva Jane Schwartz, Littlestown R. D.

The Auxiliary voted $25 toward a Pennsylvania Department Auxiliary project which maintains a clubhouse near the fighting front in Italy. Deaths of two members, Mrs. H. T. Jennings and Mrs. Ray Williams, were recorded.

It was announced a covered dish luncheon will be held February 14 with Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner in charge.

APPOINTMENTS GIVEN 200 AS BLOOD DONORS

More than 200 Adams countians Monday received "appointments to save a life" as volunteer donors for the twelfth visit here Friday of the blood receiving unit of the Red Cross from Harrisburg. Appointments begin at noon and continue throughout the afternoon with the minimum goal for the day set at 150 points.

On the first anniversary visit of the Donor Service unit to this county, the local chapter hopes to set the pace for the year in which at least 1,800 pints of blood are sought to reach the goal of "a pint of blood for every man in the service."

1225 Pints Last Year

Last year volunteers gave 1,225 pints of blood on 11 Donors Days. The last volunteers gave blood in November. No visit was made here last month.

Radford H. Lippy, Blood Donor Donor Service chairman for the county, explained today that more than 200 appointments were made in the hope that absentees and rejections would leave 150 or more acceptable donors. Colds and grip push the absentees and rejection figures specially high at this time of year, he pointed out, and urged that persons with appointments, who find they will be unable to keep them for any reason, notify him as soon as possible so that substitutes may be called from a list of volunteers.

Listing New Donors

A campaign is being made to secure new donors for the Donor Service registry and new names are being added daily. Mr. Lippy said. New donors may register either at Lippy's store on Chambersburg street or at the Red Cross office in the court house.

Local trained nurses and nurses' aides again will serve at the donor station in the basement of the Christ Lutheran church. Regular staff members of the local Red Cross chapter will handle registrations this time, relieving Mr. Lippy. Dr. Dwight F. Putman and Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, who have served for past sessions. Mrs. Earl. Bowen and Mrs. P. J. McGlynn have been assigned to that work for Friday. Mrs. Radford Lippy and Mrs. George W. Boehner will continue their regular staff duties at the station.

Gettysburg college coeds who are members of the Delta Gamma and Chi Omega fraternities will serve in the dining room, Friday, while a group of East Berlin women headed by Mrs. Elmer Gruver will be in charge in the kitchen.

NEW SPONSORS LISTED FOR BALL

Twenty additional sponsors and four contributions from schools for the Birthday Ball to be held at Hotel Gettysburg next Monday evening for the benefit of the infantile paralysis fund were announced today by Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, county chairman.

The new sponsors follow: Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis Weigle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Yoder, Gettysburg Lions club, Gettysburg Elks club, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, Capt. and Mrs. Roy S. Gifford, Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Wickerham, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Foth, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Mountain, Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, Gettysburg Rotary club, Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, Gettysburg Loyal Order of Moose, Gettysburg Times, F. and T. restaurant, American Legion Post 202.

Additional schools making contributions were Moritz's, Mrs. Elizabeth Group, teacher, $2; Mount Pleasant Grammar, Mrs. Gertrude Renner, teacher, $2.30; Locust Grove, Gladys Rebert, teacher $2, and Stauffer's, Mary K. Dissinger, teacher, $2.

REBEKAHS INVITED

Members of the Rebekah lodge of Gettysburg have been specially invited to attend the observance of the 125th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America by Thomas J. Wildey to be conducted at the weekly meeting of the local Odd Fellows lodge this evening in the lodge rooms. The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh is to be the speaker.

OFFICERS ARE REELECTED BY HOSPITAL AUX.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Baltimore street, was re-elected president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Warner hospital for a fourth term Monday at the group's annual re-organization meeting and tea.

All the officers were re-elected with Mrs. B. G. Walter, Biglerville, as first vice president; Mrs. J. R. Riden, Littlestown, second vice president; Mrs. Harry Boyle, Emmitsburg, third vice president; Miss Mary Ramer, secretary and Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, treasurer.

Reports On Activities
Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart, chairman of the membership committee, reported 197 active members in the auxiliary, 17 honorary members and said that five organizations are affiliated with the auxiliary.

Mrs. A. A. Hughes, house committee chairman, announced that $600 was spent by the Auxiliary during the last year to purchase furniture and draperies for parts of the nurses' home and some of the patient's rooms.

A total of 274 articles were made for the operating room, Mrs. Anna Mishler, chairman of the sewing committee, reported. An additional 269 articles were made for the nursery and 198 for the hospital proper. A total of 653 articles were marked with the hospital name.

Lions Club Plans Ladies' Night, Feb. 7

A V-mail letter from William A. Beales, immediate past president of the Gettysburg Lions club now serving with the Seabees at Pearl Harbor, was read at the weekly dinner meeting of the service club on Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant. Beales formerly was stationed at Camp Peary, Virginia.

J. B. Collins, chairman of the auditing committee, presented the group's report and general arrangements for a Ladies' Night program to be held Monday evening, February 7, were announced. Clubmen who have not already done so were urged to enroll as volunteer blood donors.

Radioman 2-C Robert Finger, here in the interest of the Fourth War Bond drive, told the clubmen of some of his experiences in the PT boat service in the Pacific. He was introduced by Paul D. Thomas of the county war bond committee.

The club voted a contribution to the annual campaign of the President's Birthday party committee.

'I Will Come Home Again...'

Out here, I hope . . .

Out here, I think . . . Out here, I dream of peace— and coming home to showers and clean sheets and Christmas trees and apple pies and my job . . . and the girl I love. I will come home again . . .

But not until my brother's eyes no longer watch a red sun rising on Bataan. Not until I've marched and eaten with no longer sleep beside forgotten beaches. Not while men who suffered, bled and died for me are unavenged.

No . . . Not yet, before we strike down the enemy . . . and gut his ships and strip his guns, and break his will to hate and lust to kill.

No terms . . .

No paper peace put down by foes who, lacking guns, will still fight with pen and ink—can rob me of the victory I've bought with heart's blood and sweat and grief.

I'll come home again when this war's won . . .

I'll turn to the job I want to do, when I'm done with this job that must be done . . . and not before. I'll come home again, when I'm free from the hate and greed of other men . . . when I'm free of war and the restraints of war . . . when I'll be free to plan a future of my own . . . free to build an even better America—an even better world—than the one I've always known. Free to work and be honored for my work in a land where there will always be for me and every man liberty, security and dignity . . . and the opportunity to set my (Please Turn to Page 5)

Miss Miriam Taylor Elected To Teach

Miss D. Miriam Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Springs avenue, has accepted the position of teacher of social studies and English at Fairfield high school, it was announced today. She is now teaching at Burnham, Pa., and will begin her new duties at Fairfield on February 1.

She succeeds Mrs. Geraldine Bream, wife of a student at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, who is returning to her home in Nebraska.

Herbert Miller, former Biglerville high school teacher, is substituting in Mrs. Bream's place until the arrival of Miss Taylor.

COUNTY BOARD ADOPTS POLICY ON SICK LEAVE

The Adams county school board went on record Monday night as favoring sick-leave for the teachers in the county's schools and then appointed a committee comprising L. E. Jacobs, C. J. Waybright and Z. R. Peters, all members of the board, to set up a model "sick-leave" program to be suggested to the various local boards for action.

The decision was made following a discussion on the question of sick leaves by the board members at their January meeting held in the office of the county superintendent of schools at the court house. Clyde A. McCauslin, principal of the Franklin township consolidated school, told the board of the success of the sick-leave plan which has been in operation in the Franklin township schools for the last five years. He also told of the findings of a committee of the county unit of the Pennsylvania State Education association of which he is chairman, which was directed to make a study of the sick-leave arrangements in other school districts. Dr. Anson Hamm, Fairfield principal, president of the county PSEA, also outlined various plans for sick-leave.

Study Many Plans

Board members pointed out that such a program would better the education of the county's youngsters because "teachers who are sick but still are able to stand, come to school to teach because they are penalized if they are absent through illness," as one member expressed it. It was pointed out that if each (Please Turn to Page 5)

Services Held For Mrs. Trostel

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Weidner Trostel, 59, wife of the Rev. Ira W. Trostel, who died at her home in Lansdowne Friday afternoon, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Routsong-Dugan funeral home, Bendersville.

The Rev. Dr. Maurice Gortner, Lansdowne; the Rev. Victor Kroninger, Shillington, and the Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, officiated.

Charles E. Deardorff has sold his 70-acre stock farm in Straban township together with stock, equipment and crops to Fred G. Schwarz and C. H. Boyts, Silver Spring, Maryland. Possession will be given March 15. The sale was made by C. A. Helges.

APPIAN WAY, COASTAL ROAD ARE SEVERED

By RICHARD McMURRAY

Associated Press War Editor

The Berlin radio indicated today that American troops had driven within 22 miles of Rome and cut the Appian Way and main coastal railway by capturing Velletri, 18 miles northeast of Nettuno.

"American troops are finding debris and ashes there after their own bombs transformed the little town into a heap of ruins," the radio report said. Velletri is on the Appian Way and only nine miles from the Via Casilina, the inland highway leading to the Cassino battlefield to the south.

Allied headquarters announced only that American and British troops had advanced 12 miles inland. The Germans were reported shifting their troops from the Cassino-Garigliano front in the south to meet the new threat to Rome. A headquarters officer said Hitler, desperately needing a victory, "may decide to throw great forces into Italy and tell his generals they must produce a victory at any cost."

(The Geneva newspaper La Suisse quoted the Fascist press today as announcing that Allied forces now had occupied the entire 30-mile coastal stretch from Nettuno to the mouth of the Tiber, and were threatening Ostia, the port of Rome, three miles up the river. OWI reported this dispatch.)

Down 9 Planes

German planes made their strongest attacks yesterday seeking to halt sea-borne reinforcements, and battled over the invasion bridgehead, but lost nine planes.

The Allied spearhead met "hastily organized battle groups" of Germans, apparently moved northward from the Fifth Army front around Cassino.

The Nazis still were launching fierce counterattacks on that main front, but these blows have decreased somewhat in number and intensity in the last 24 hours, indicating that enemy forces were being pulled back to meet the invasion flanking threat.

The beachhead has been lengthened, headquarters declared, without disclosing the area it covers. Reinforcements and supplies continued to pour in with little enemy interference, and the communiqué said the town of Anzio, bordering to the west, had been taken.

Near Rail Line

(The United Nations radio at Algiers said the troops striking inland were within a mile of the double-track Rome-Naples electric rail line. The broadcast was recorded by the OWI.)

Fierce fighting raged on the American sector along the Rapido river near Cassino with heavy fire by all kinds of weapons.

U. S. patrols recrossed the stream to probe enemy defenses, but no counteroffensive was launched by the Americans to keep a force on the western bank. The Germans, who on Sunday hurled the Americans back across the river, made no attempts to cross to the eastern bank.

French troops in the northernmost area beat back several more enemy counterattacks, and a hot battle swirled for the Mt. Croce area.

British Gains

SUCCESSES IN ITALY BOLSTER BALKAN STATES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff Analyst)
The brightening Allied prospects in Italy are bound to be heavily reflected in the neighboring Balkans which already are flaming fiercely from their efforts to escape Hitler's bloody clutches and from internal political struggles which are in process of determining the nature of future governments.

In the long run probably the political aspect is the more important, for Der Fuehrer's fate already is determined, while the political complexion of southeastern Europe reaches far into coming years.

Four royal crowns—representing Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rumania—are undergoing the acid test. I quote Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, native of Yugoslavia and former holder of numerous positions under his government until he broke with the Yugoslav government in exile three months ago because of his views on this issue:

"The present governments of the Balkan states are on their way out, and you can be certain no one will be sorry about it," he told me the other day. "In every case they have been dictatorships, and the people are determined on establishing popular rule. These dictatorships have existed under the monarchies, and that means it's highly probable, though not yet absolutely certain, that the Balkans are through with kings."

Slav King Is Barred
"I never could understand why King Peter of Yugoslavia—himself a young man—should have identified himself with the cause of the dictatorship. I am sure his position would have been different if he had not done so. It may be that it is too late now, but the only way he could possibly reinstate himself would be to make a clean and unequivocal sweep in favor of popular rule."

So far as concerns Yugoslavia, the liberal nationalist elements (their opponents call them Reds) have formed a provisional government known as the National Council of Liberation.

Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) the famous leader of the partisan army which is receiving Allied support, is chairman of the committee of national defense in this government. Tito is a communist, but his followers represent all brands of liberals. The provisional government has deprived King Peter of his rights and has forbidden him to return to the country until it is liberated.

Swing to Popular Rule

Neighboring Greece is torn between two political groups, each of which has an army in the field. There is the Elass group, which is against return of the king and is said by some to have communist leanings. Then, there is the Edeas faction which stands by the monarchy. The Elass partisans have announced that the only way King George can obtain their support is to return to Greece, live with them in their crude mountain fastnesses and lead them against the Hitlerites. Bulgaria has been racked with political crisis since the mysterious death of King Boris, the dictator, last summer. Here, too, there is a swing towards popular rule, and many of the people lean towards Russia. Rumania, shaking like a custard with fear of Russian invasion, is in such a muddle politically that no one can foresee the future. Moscow's weight is bound to count for much, however.

An outstanding feature of this situation, of course, is the strong current of Russian influence running through the whole set-up. While it would be rash to try to predict the forms of government likely to be chosen by these Balkan states, it would be equally rash not to expect that Russia would play a dominant role on the peninsula after the war.

17 Countians Are Inducted Today

URGE PROBE OF 2 U. S. COURT JUDGES IN PA.

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The House Judiciary committee today reported favorably a resolution calling for an investigation of U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson of the Middle Pennsylvania District.

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Legislation asking authorization for the House Judiciary committee to conduct an investigation of U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson, of the Middle District court of Pennsylvania, was before the House today.

The investigation would be conducted to "determine whether . . . the said judges, or either of them, have been guilty of any high crime or misdemeanor which in the contemplation of the (Judiciary) committee requires the interposition of the constitutional powers of the House," under two resolutions introduced yesterday by Committee Chairman Sumners (D-Tex.).

They stated that the committee "shall report its findings to the House, together with such resolutions of impeachment or other recommendations as it deems proper." Neither resolution mentioned specific charges.

"Most Flagrant Violation"
The investigation, if authorized, would concern "bankruptcy proceedings and the general administration of justice" by the two judges. Representative Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a member of the committee, appointed by the chairman to study the cases, said.

The group was unanimous in its decision to ask authorization to conduct the investigation. Representative Walter (D-Pa.), another committee member, said. "The action was recommended by judicial council."

Judge Johnson, 71, who resides in Lewisburg, Pa., was mentioned in the House last November 2 by Representative Sauthoff (Prog-Wis) who, during a speech on "federal justice" declared:

"The most flagrant violation of justice meted out in Federal courts and which stinks to high heaven was the action of Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, of Scranton, Pa., in the war frauds prosecution of officials and employees of the Lackawanna Pumps company."

Serve This District
... originally, four defendants were indicted on four counts of embezzlement and one of conspiracy. But Judge Johnson ruled out the possibility of a conspiracy conviction in his charge to the jury. The jury, however, rendered a verdict of guilty on all counts in spite of the judge's manifest effort to aid the defendants.

Both Johnson and Watson sit at Scranton, Lewisburg, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and Harrisburg. Watson, 67, is a native of Susquehanna county and became a federal judge in 1929. He is a graduate of Amherst college.

Judge Johnson is a graduate of Bucknell university and served as president judge of the 17th State Judicial district, comprising Union and Snyder counties in 1912. He was appointed to the Federal bench by President Coolidge in 1925.

Navy Is Operating York Safe And Lock

York, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—The York Safe and Lock company plants were being operated by the Navy today following a Presidential order to take over the company.

The Navy said the action stemmed from "unsatisfactory conditions" and that it had "formulated certain conditions which, if met, will result in the return of the plant to private management."

President Roosevelt's order said only that the seizure was deemed essential in order that the plants "may be effectively operated in the manufacture of x x x materials" and that government possession will end within 60 days after it is determined the plants will be operated privately "in a manner consistent with the war effort."

The Navy said "no labor trouble is involved. Existing wage and working conditions will be maintained."

Plight Of White Collar Men Aired

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The American white collar worker came into "court" today to speak his piece and this was it: That he has been caught in a wartime trap—and left there.

What he wants is government help in getting more money into his pay envelope to meet rising living costs. This is the first real chance he's had to state his case since the war's start.

Government officials, labor leaders and various association spokesmen started a five-day hearing before a Senate subcommittee which is seeking to learn what has happened to the white collar worker.

Practically unorganized, he's in no position to force his claims for more pay as did the well organized coal miners and railroad workers through strikes and strike threats.

brought the car to a halt at the intersection and that both he and Zinn had looked up and down the highway before crossing. Little said he saw a light about 50 feet away on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road before Zinn started across but did not know whether or not it was a car. He had said nothing to Zinn about the light, he said.

Officer Testifies

Private George Ackerson, of the local state motor police, who investigated the accident was the first witness Monday afternoon. He told of going to the scene about 2 a. m., November 15 and of finding Pfc. Ralph Stetler, 19, Laureldale, one of the occupants of the Manbeck car, dead.

The Zinn car, he said, had gone across the intersection and had struck a telephone pole at the southeast side of the intersection. It broke off the pole about four feet from the ground and overturned with the car lying on its top with the butt end of the pole, still in the ground, on one side of the car and the remainder of the pole, supported by its wires, dangling against the other side of the machine.

The Manbeck auto, Private Ackerson said, had after the collision gone up a slight incline to the east of the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway and was turned around facing towards Harrisburg.

Cases Dismissed

The trial of the serious counts against Mrs. Florence Stambaugh, New Oxford R. D., and Richard Gladfelter, Hanover, came to an abrupt end Monday afternoon when the defendants changed their plea to "guilty" after both had testified and denied the charges. It was while a brother of Gladfelter was on the stand that the guilty pleas were entered by defense counsel. The pair will be called for sentence Saturday morning.

The next case listed was nolle prossed by District Attorney J. Francis Yake. The defendants were Marie Cool, New Oxford R. D., and Clair Tresh, Hanover. Both are charged with serious offenses.

News Briefs

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organization, told a Senate subcommittee investigating the economic problems of white collar workers today that living costs have increased approximately 50 per cent since January, 1941.

Murray said his headquarters would issue a formal report later in the day to dispute estimates by the Bureau of Labor statistics showing an increase of 23.4 per cent from January, 1941, to November, 1943. "The cost of living survey of the CIO, to be submitted this afternoon to the cost of living committee," Murray testified, "will show most shocking revelations."

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—A 2,200-ton super-destroyer, the U. S. S. Taussig, was launched today at the Bethlehem Steel Company's Staten Island shipyard.

The ship, twice as heavy as a World War I sub-chaser and with the striking power of a cruiser of the last war, was named for the late Rear Admiral Edward David Taussig who served in the Navy from the Civil war through 1918 and in 1899 claimed Wake Island for the United States.

Bridgeton, N. J., Jan. 25 (AP)—A group of native-American Japanese have arrived here from relocation camps in Colorado to take over jobs in the plants of the Deerfield Packing Corporation. They will be housed in federal public housing administration dormitories at Seabrook Farms, which announced their arrival today.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP)—Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's proposal for joint election of governors and lieutenant governors of the same party was approved today by the New York Legislature over solid Democratic opposition and went to the Chief Executive for his signature.

The measure, a constitutional amendment requiring approval by the 1944 and 1945 legislatures before submission to the people at the 1945 statewide election, would provide for bracketing on the ballot each party's candidates for the state's two highest elective offices.

Successful candidates would be jointly elected as are the President and Vice President of the United States.

APPIAN WAY

Damiano bridge area. The Germans were reported counterattacking recklessly in the Minturno and Castelforte areas.

A British veteran of the last war who went through the thick of the fighting in and around Minturno said:

"The German dead there exceeded the dead I saw at any time during the fiercest fighting on the Somme."

The German battle groups rushing up against the invasion forces to the northwest are formations that can be drawn rapidly from any division. They represent all branches and are in the nature of miniature defense divisions with their own commanders. Presumably such groups have been drawn from several of the divisions facing the Fifth Army.

Alexander In Charge

There also were indications the Germans may bring some of their forces from northern Italy to the Rome area.

Headquarters disclosed that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander of Allied forces in Italy, had personally directed the landing operations at Nettuno, and then landed himself to supervise the early operations ashore.

(An unverified German report quoted by the Morocco radio last night said Littoria had been captured. This apparently referred to a town in the Pontine marshes about 12 miles due east of captured Nettuno, which is not to be confused with the great airfield of Littorio or the outskirts of Rome.)

Heavy bombers blasted rail yards at Vratska, near the Bulgarian capital of Sofia, and also struck at Skopje in Yugoslavia yesterday.

Despite bad weather, fighters and fighter bombers maintained a cover over convoys and the invasion beaches in Italy as well as roads behind the German lines.

A number of Nazi bombers attacking Allied shipping were shot down. Fifteen enemy planes were destroyed during the day, and 11 Allied craft were lost.

Arrive Overseas

Mrs. Evelyn Trimmer has received word her husband, S. L. C. Fred R. Trimmer, has arrived safely somewhere overseas.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET MONDAY

The relation of the troop committees to the district committee was discussed Monday afternoon at meetings of the Black Walnut district of the Boy Scouts held in Gettysburg and Biglerville.

D. D. Crisp, assistant executive of the York-Adams area, talked over the relationship of the troop, district and area units of the York-Adams area and outlined the duties of the various officials in relation to district organization and management at the two meetings which were held in two places to prevent use of more gasoline than necessary. The activities of the health and safety, advancement, finance, camping and organization and extension committees were outlined in detail. Fourth War Loan drive posters were given to troop representatives for distribution in store windows by the scouts.

At Biglerville Mr. Crisp and Dr. Frederick Tilberg, district chairman, met with representatives of the Biglerville, Arendtsville and Bendersville troops, and with Arnold Orner, Arendtsville, vice chairman of the Black Walnut district, and John Fidler, chairman of the Upper Adams Lions club committee, which sponsors the three troops in the upper part of the Black Walnut district.

SUCCESSES IN ITALY BOLSTER BALKAN STATES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
The brightening Allied prospects in Italy are bound to be heavily reflected in the neighboring Balkans which already are flaming fiercely from their efforts to escape Hitler's bloody clutches and from internal political struggles which are in process of determining the nature of future governments.

In the long run probably the political aspect is the more important, for Der Fuehrer's fate already is determined, while the political complexion of southeastern Europe reaches far into coming years.

Four royal crowns—representing Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rumania—are undergoing the acid test. I quote Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, native of Yugoslavia and former holder of numerous positions under his government until he broke with the Yugoslav government in exile three months ago because of his views on this issue:

"The present governments of the Balkan states are on their way out, and you can be certain no one will be sorry about it," he told me the other day. "In every case they have been dictatorships, and the people are determined on establishing popular rule. These dictatorships have existed under the monarchies, and that means it's highly probable, though not yet absolutely certain, that the Balkans are through with kings."

Slav King Is Barred
"I never could understand why King Peter of Yugoslavia—himself a young man—should have identified himself with the cause of the dictatorship. I am sure his position would have been different if he had not done so. It may be that it is too late now, but the only way he could possibly reinstate himself would be to make a clean and unequivocal sweep in favor of popular rule."

So far as concerns Yugoslavia, the liberal nationalist elements (their opponents call them Reds) have formed a provisional government known as the National Council of Liberation.

Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) the famous leader of the partisan army which is receiving Allied support, is chairman of the committee of national defense in this government. Tito is a communist, but his followers represent all brands of liberals. The provisional government has deprived King Peter of his rights and has forbidden him to return to the country until it is liberated.

Swing to Popular Rule

Neighboring Greece is torn between two political groups, each of which has an army in the field. There is the Elass group, which is against return of the king and is said by some to have communist leanings. Then, there is the Edeas faction which stands by the monarchy. The Elass partisans have announced that the only way King George can obtain their support is to return to Greece, live with them in their crude mountain fastnesses and lead them against the Hitlerites.

Bulgaria has been racked with political crisis since the mysterious death of King Boris, the dictator, last summer. Here, too, there is a swing towards popular rule, and many of the people lean towards Russia. Rumania, shaking like a custard with fear of Russian invasion, is in such a muddle politically that no one can foresee the future. Moscow's weight is bound to count for much, however.

An outstanding feature of this situation, of course, is the strong current of Russian influence running through the whole set-up. While it would be rash to try to predict the forms of government likely to be chosen by these Balkan states, it would be equally rash not to expect that Russia would play a dominant role on the peninsula after the war.

17 Countians Are Inducted Today

Seventeen Gettysburg and western Adams county men who were selected for army duty following physical examination at Harrisburg, January 4, left at 11:30 o'clock this morning for New Cumberland to be inducted into the service. # URGE PROBE OF 2 U. S. COURT JUDGES IN PA.

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The House Judiciary committee today reported favorably a resolution calling for an investigation of U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson of the Middle Pennsylvania District.

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Legislation asking authorization for the House Judiciary committee to conduct an investigation of U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson, of the Middle District court of Pennsylvania, was before the House today.

The investigation would be conducted to "determine whether or not the said judges, or either of them, have been guilty of any high crime or misdemeanor which in the contemplation of the (Judiciary) committee requires the interposition of the constitutional powers of the House," under two resolutions introduced yesterday by Committee Chairman Sumners (D-Tex.).

They stated that the committee "shall report its findings to the House, together with such resolutions of impeachment or other recommendations as it deems proper." Neither resolution mentioned specific charges.

"Most Flagrant Violation"

The investigation, if authorized, would concern "bankruptcy proceedings and the general administration of justice" by the two judges. Representative Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a member of the committee, appointed by the chairman to study the cases, said:

The group was unanimous in its decision to ask authorization to conduct the investigation. Representative Walter (D-Pa.), another committee member, said, "The action was recommended by judicial council."

Judge Johnson, 71, who resides in Lewisburg, Pa., was mentioned in the House last November 2 by Representative Sauthoff (Prog-Wis) who, during a speech on "federal justice" declared:

"The most flagrant violation of justice meted out in Federal courts and which stinks to high heaven was the action of Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, of Scranton, Pa., in the war frauds prosecution of officials and employees of the Lackawanna Pants company."

Serve This District

... originally, four defendants were indicted on four counts of embezzlement and one of conspiracy. But Judge Johnson ruled out the possibility of a conspiracy conviction in his charge to the jury. The jury, however, rendered a verdict of guilty on all counts in spite of the judge's manifest effort to aid the defendants.

Both Johnson and Watson sit at Scranton, Lewisburg, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and Harrisburg. Watson, 67, is a native of Susquehanna county and became a federal judge in 1929. He is a graduate of Amherst college.

Judge Johnson is a graduate of Bucknell university and served as president judge of the 17th State Judicial district, comprising Union and Snyder counties in 1912. He was appointed to the Federal bench by President Coolidge in 1923.

Navy Is Operating York Safe And Lock

York, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—The York Safe and Lock company plants were being operated by the Navy today following a Presidential order to take over the company.

The Navy said the action stemmed from "unsatisfactory conditions" and that it had "formulated certain conditions which, if met, will result in the return of the plant to private management."

President Roosevelt's order said only that the seizure was deemed essential in order that the plants "may be effectively operated in the manufacture of x x x war materials" and that government possession will end with 60 days after it is determined the plants will be operated privately "in a manner consistent with the war effort."

The Navy said "no labor trouble is involved. Existing wage and working conditions will be maintained."

What he wants is government help in getting more money into his pay envelope to meet rising living costs. This is the first real chance he's had to state his case since the war's start.

APPIAN WAY

Damiano bridge area. The Germans were reported counterattacking recklessly in the Minturno and Castelforte areas.

A British veteran of the last war who went through the thick of the fighting in and around Minturno said:

"The German dead there exceeded the dead I saw at any time during the fiercest fighting on the Somme."

The German battle groups rushing up against the invasion forces to the northwest are formations that can be drawn rapidly from any division. They represent all branches and are in the nature of miniature defense divisions with their own commanders. Presumably such groups have been drawn from several of the divisions facing the Fifth Army.

Alexander In Charge

There also were indications the Germans may bring some of their forces from northern Italy to the Rome area.

Headquarters disclosed that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander of Allied forces in Italy, had personally directed the landing operations at Nettuno, and then landed himself to supervise the early operations ashore.

(An unverified German report quoted by the Morocco radio last night said Littorio had been captured. This apparently referred to a town in the Pontine marshes about 12 miles due east of captured Nettuno, which is not to be confused with the great airfield of Littorio on the outskirts of Rome.)

Heavy bombers blasted rail yards at Vratna, near the Bulgarian capital of Sofia, and also struck at Skopje in Yugoslavia yesterday. Despite bad weather, fighters and fighter bombers maintained a cover over convoys and the invasion beaches in Italy as well as roads behind the German lines.

A number of Nazi bombers attacking Allied shipping were shot down. Fifteen enemy planes were destroyed during the day, and 11 Allied craft were lost.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET MONDAY

The relation of the troop committees to the district committee was discussed Monday afternoon at meetings of the Black Walnut district of the Boy Scouts held in Gettysburg and Biglerville.

D. D. Crisp, assistant executive of the York-Adams area, talked over the relationship of the troop, district and area units of the York-Adams area and outlined the duties of the various officials in relation to district organization and management at the two meetings which were held in two places to prevent use of more gasoline than necessary. The activities of the health and safety, advancement, finance, camping and organization and extension committees were outlined in detail. Fourth War Loan drive posters were given to troop representatives for distribution in store windows by the scouts.

At Biglerville Mr. Crisp and Dr. Frederick Tiberg, district chairman, met with representatives of the Biglerville, Arendtsville and Bendersville troops, and with Arnold-Orner, Arendtsville, vice chairman of the Black Walnut district, and John Fidler, chairman of the Upper Adams Lions club committee, which sponsors the three troops in the upper part of the Black Walnut district.

Attending the session at Gettysburg were Sydney Poppay, Frank Dougherty, the Rev. Ralph Gresh, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Carl A. Westerhahl, Dean W. E. Tiberg, Dr. R. S. Saby, A. Harrison Barr, the Rev. Dwight F. Putman and Dr. Frederick Tiberg. The Gettysburg session was held in the National Park offices in the post office building.

WILLIAMS AFTER 33RD STRAIGHT RING VICTORY

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—The odds on Ike Williams' chances of winning his 33rd consecutive victory when he meets Bob Montgomery in a 12-rounder at Convention Hall tonight have been hammered down to almost even money.

Prior to the weighing in ceremonies today the odds were down to 6 to 5, still in the Bobcat's favor however. The Philadelphia lightweight held a 2 to 1 advantage in the betting two weeks ago.

Backers of the 23-year-old dark skinned Williams maintain he will take the Bobcat in his stride, even though the local fighter has a three-pound weight advantage. The Trenton terror, who is lightning fast with his fists, may take an early lead but the last half of the battle will be the deciding phase, the experts claim.

Much at Stake
Both fighters have a great deal at stake. A win for Williams will assure him of top billing in every major fight club in the nation which would bring with it top earnings.

A win for the Bobcat would assure a top gate for his return bout with Champion Beau Jack sometime in March and a scheduled meeting with Bummy Davis next month. A loss to Williams wouldn't necessarily knock the Bobcat out of these matches but the gate would suffer.

Some 20,000 fight fans are expected to pay upwards of $50,000 to see the two lightweights in action. The Bobcat's backers claim he will probably get off to his usual slow start but will win in a walk after he gets moving. Montgomery lost the New York-Pennsylvania version of the world lightweight championship to Beau Jack last fall.

Lifted Dimout To Aid Outdoor Sports

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Sports promoters in this city of 7,000,000 looked forward hopefully today to a prosperous outdoor season this summer. There is no longer a dimout—not even a so-called brown one—after dark.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia gave the go-ahead sign yesterday to Branch Rickey, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Leo Bondy, of the Giants, for night baseball games. The Dodgers and Giants promptly announced they would play 14 games each.

The championship Yankees have no lighting equipment at the Stadium and hence were not interested in the LaGuardia-Rickey-Bondy conference.

The last night baseball games were played in New York in 1941. Their absence in the last two years caused a drop in attendance, despite twilight contests.

Fights Last Night

Rickey Modifies Double A Forecast

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—Branch Rickey said it, but he didn't mean it the way it sounded.

That was the explanation the president of the Brooklyn Dodgers offered yesterday for his recent comment that he "didn't see how the Double A baseball clubs" were going to get through the season.

"When I made that statement I was thinking in terms of the manpower shortage only as applied to our Montreal club, and not of the whole Double A picture."

Speaking to reporters after addressing a breakfast club Rickey said "the Double A clubs are going to play this year. We are going to play in Montreal as long as we are able to field a team, but at the moment I made that statement the problem of obtaining enough players looked puzzling."

Maroons At Carlisle Tonight

This evening the Gettysburg high school basketball team will meet Carlisle high of the Northern Division in a game at Carlisle.

Victors in six of eight games this season, Coach Mel Dry's boys are favored to win. However, the brilliant showing made by Carlisle at Hershey last Friday evening has raised the hopes of the Carlisle team for its coming tilt.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Phillies are coming up with a real double-no-hit pitcher this spring—but not just like Johnny Vander Meer. . . . He's Albert "Stumpy" Verdelie, who pitched two consecutive no-hitters for Bordentown (N.J.) Military institute a few years ago and who compiled quite a record for Fort Dix before he was discharged because of a bad leg. . . . Stumpy is a native of Punxsutawney, Pa., Rube Waddell's old hang-out, and claims he once faced the Yanks for two innings without giving a hit. . . . Anyone could do that by staying in the stands. . . . Abe Greene says the NBA is willing to consider Friday's Sammy Angott-Beau Jack fight a title fuff if the New York commission will agree. . . . Otherwise, he says, "we shall wind up in the same position we are in today. . . . with two champions." . . . Isn't that assuming something?

A WACY GAME
When the Fort Sheridan, Illinois, WAC contingent met the American College of Physical Education in a basketball game recently, the girls had plenty of fun—but not the officials. . . . At half time Billy Andrews came out with a chipped tooth where someone's elbow had struck him in a scramble and a little later Lieut. Grant Butler had to take time out to repair some scratches on his hand. . . . "They sure have long finger nails," he complained.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
President Ford Frick of the National league is going to bat to fill the request brought back from Alaska by Frank Frisch, Danny Little and company, that one major league game a day should be broadcast, either directly or by recording, to the boys in the armed forces overseas. . . . Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the RFC boss, has a good luck sweater she wears to all the Washington Redskins' games. When the team is on the road, she does it to sit beside the radio. . . . Just 2,750 season tickets for the Illinois State high school basketball tournament will be sold to the general public. . . . Worst pun department: The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's Haver Boyle calls John Lawther, Penn State court coach, "a gay Lawtherio, in a basketball sense."

SERVICE DEPT.
When Al Popple, former Oregon cager now playing for the Camp Kearns (Utah) Eagles was tossed out of a game last week for four personal fouls, it was the first time he had suffered such a banishment in four years of basketball. . . . According to Nat (Ring magazine) Fleischer's latest figures, Minnesota has about twice as many boys in the armed forces as any other state. . . . When the North Carolina Navy Pre-Flight wrestlers tackled Duke recently, they carried 26 bouts instead of the usual eight. And it wasn't borrowing a "Hippodrome" finish from pro grappling when a blackout interrupted the deciding heavyweight match two minutes before the finish and delayed the decision for 40 minutes.

Game Tonight May Be Kilrea's Last
(By The Associated Press)
Wally Kilrea, Hershey star, plays what may be his last American Hockey league game tonight when the Bears, Eastern division leaders, tangle with the Cleveland Barons, tops in the Western division, on the Cleveland ice.

Kilrea is scheduled to enter the Army on January 27, but it is possible he may play Saturday night against Providence.

The game is the only one scheduled tonight and the Bears are hopeful of chalking up their first win over the Barons on the Cleveland rink. In two games at Cleveland, the Barons won one, 5 to 2, with the other resulting in a 2-2 tie. In two games at Hershey the Bears won twice, 6 to 3 and 4 to 1.

The battle also pits the league's three highest scorers against each other. Tom Burlington, of the Barons, tops the list with 19 goals and 29 assists for 48 points. His teammate, Lou Trudel, is second with 46 points while Kilrea is third with 45.

DIES OF BURNS
Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Burns suffered January 14 while Charles Sullenberger, 34, of Kecksburg, was battling a grass fire, caused his death yesterday in a hospital here. He was employed by the State highway department.

NEW OXFORD HI DIVIDES PAIR

New Oxford high school's cagers divided a pair of games with Codorus Township high Monday evening at New Oxford.

The New Oxford boys lost their sixth straight 44-33 despite the efforts of J. Haar who landed 21 points for Coach Jack Miller's outfit. At half time Codorus Township led 16-9.

A five-game losing streak was halted by the New Oxford girls who won the preliminary game 22-17 after a hard fight. Selg looped 13 tallies for the victors.

New Oxford will be host to Littlestown high Friday evening.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Major General John J. Phelan, chairman of the State Athletic commission, has called a meeting for Friday to help straighten out the tangled lightweight boxing situation between Beau Jack, Bob Montgomery and Sammy Angott. The meeting will be held before the Jack-Angott non-title bout at Madison Square Garden.

Baltimore, Jan. 25 (AP)—Sgt. Joe Louis' first appearance as guest referee on a 30-day furlough from the Army drew 5,000 fans packed them in the aisles and turned others away last night at the weekly boxing show at the Coliseum.

Harry Jeffra, the two-time world's champion, former holder of the bantamweight and featherweight titles, climbed another notch up the comeback trail, winning an unanimous decision over Frankie Rubino of New York.

ADD SPORT SHORTS—
Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—With 260 players now under contract and expected to report to spring camps, the American league manpower status is in good shape for the opening of the 1944 season, the A. L. service bureau reported today.

Since the close of the 1943 season, 31 players have been called to the colors, increasing to 194 the number of American league men now in the service. Philadelphia with 33 and Detroit with 32 top the league.

Hanover, N. H., Jan. 25 (AP)—Dartmouth and Notre Dame football teams will clash for the first time next Oct. 14 when they meet at Fenway park, Boston, according to an announcement by Dartmouth Athletic Director William H. McCarter.

McCarter said Dartmouth had signed a two-year contract with Notre Dame and that the second game would be held at South Bend, Ind., Oct. 13, 1945. The Boston game will mark the first New England appearance of a Notre Dame eleven.

KILLS SILVER FOX
Reynoldsville, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Norman Leach of nearby Pleasant Valley, was displaying a magnificent pelt of what he said was a black silver fox, which he killed after a hunt of several weeks. It was 45 inches from tip of the nose to tip of the tail and was valued by Leach at "from $100 to $1,000."

STARS IN SERVICE

SHEPPARD NIPS GUS DORAZIO

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Curtis (Hatchet Man) Sheppard, 187-pound Pittsburgh negro, laid claims today to a berth in the top ten heavyweights of the nation as a result of his upset ten-round triumph over Gus Dorazio, 199-pound Philadelphia veteran, generally ranked sixth.

"I'll take 'em, any and all," chuckled the happy Sheppard as he counted his share of the $14,834 receipts contributed by 6,000 fans.

Dorazio's supporters were offering as much as three to one at the ring-side last night before Sheppard showed just why he has been dubbed the "Hatchet Man." His victory was unanimous, the referee awarding him 8 rounds, with one to Dorazio and one even. The judges favored 8-2 and 7-3 in Sheppard's favor.

The negro surprised his followers by his unexpected shift from slugger to boxer, and his use of a left jab. There were no knockdowns but Dorazio suffered a bad cut over his right eye. It was Sheppard's seventh straight victory and ended a row of ten straight for the Philadelphia.

Juste Fontaine, 132, of Milwaukee, a protegee of Fritz Zivie, scored a spectacular knockout over Woody Sweeney, 134, of Pittsburgh, in the fourth of their six rounder.

Phillies Seeking New Team Insignia

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Phillies have decided there isn't enough identification for a baseball team in a name alone and are now planning to offer a $100 war bond prize to the fan who selects the best insignia for the team.

It may be fish, bird, animal or something from Philadelphia's rich tradition, but it must be synonymous with the city, the club's youthful president, Bob Carpenter said.

"I want an emblem or insignia that is strictly Philadelphia, one that the baseball world will know and respect."

ANSWERS FOES OF DOE SEASON; RECORDS "OPEN"

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Ross L. Leffer, chairman of the State Game commission, replying to criticisms of last month's open doe season, says the commission acted to prevent starvation of deer and "in the interest of the state's sportsmen."

The north central division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs Sunday adopted a resolution charging the commission with using "unfair tactics" in opening the season on antlerless deer in nine northern counties. It authorized a committee to file the protest with Governor Edward Martin.

Leffer, in a statement issued last night, declared:

"The commission acted within its legal rights and responsibility for it is our duty not only to conform with the law but to protect the interests of 640,000 licensed hunters as well as the 9,000,000 residents of Pennsylvania who also have a stake in our wildlife resources."

Records are "Open"
"A mere handful of malcontent attempted to deprive 50,000 hunters of the right to shoot antlerless deer in those counties and it was their interests we were trying to protect."

Regarding charges by District Attorney Edwin T. Tompkins of Cameron county that a number of names had been stricken from a petition to halt the doe season as having been "ineligible to sign, Leffer said:

" . . . the records of the Game commission are open at all times to any responsible citizen who wishes to inspect them, and we have so instructed our office staff in Harrisburg."

Tompkins asserted he was refused a list of the stricken names by the commission.

Judge Rules On Fair Labor Act

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 25 (AP)—Judge A. D. Barksdale ruled today that the Fair Labor Standards act of 1938 was not intended to force mine operators to pay underground employees for the time they consumed traveling in mines to their places of work.

Handing down a decision in U. S. District court in a "portal-to-portal" test case which attracted wide attention in the bituminous coal industry when it was originated last summer, Judge Barksdale said that he could find nothing in the act which indicated that it was the intent of Congress "to make so radical a change in the wage structure" of the coal industry as to require payment for underground travel time.

Reaction of the operators and UMW to the decision was not immediately available but some coal sources said that it seemed likely that the biggest effect would be to remove from the operators any liability for portal-to-portal back pay for miners prior to April 1. They said there were a few individual suits pending on this angle.

To Affect 140,000
"To put weight into its recommendations, expected to be made within the next few weeks, the committee is considering asking the House Appropriations committee to cut off any further funds for the program."

The military committee's recommendations would not affect the separate programs for training engineers, and men for military government operations abroad.

It would, however, have a direct bearing on an estimated 140,000 young soldiers now in colleges and universities studying dentistry, surgery, medicine, languages and a wide range of other subjects.

Garbage Mounts As Strike Goes On
Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—City council was called into session again today to consider the garbage situation, as refuse in alleys, backyards and back porches mounted so high from a 12-day strike of garbage truck drivers and their helpers the city health director issued a warning a public menace exists.

Council yesterday passed two ordinances paying the way to return the collection job to private contractors and end the three-year-old municipal system which has been marked by at least eight strikes.

However, council members differed on the specifications, some preferring bids for the work be made on a "lump sum" basis and others that they be on a tonnage basis.

Somerset Couple Has 19th Child

Somerset, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Dayton Tiro, 42, and her 19th baby are doing fine today, thank you.

That was the report from the home of William Tiro, a section worker on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who lives in nearby Listle with 14 of the 17 living children.

Twelve of the children are girls and five boys, the oldest 23, in the army in New Jersey and another 20, with the army in Italy. One of the children is married.

The 19th child, a girl, was born last week.

FOUR HELD FOR CIRCULATION OF OLD GAS STAMPS

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP)—Four persons are in custody in Washington in connection with an OPA investigation into the illegal circulation of obsolete ration coupons worth 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline and 15,000 gallons of fuel oil, Act- and 15,000,000 gallons of fuel oil.

Acting Director Frank J. Loftus, of the OPA, in a statement issued last night, declared:

"The commission acted within its legal rights and responsibility for it is our duty not only to conform with the law but to protect the interests of 640,000 licensed hunters as well as the 9,000,000 residents of Pennsylvania who also have a stake in our wildlife resources."

Records are "Open"
"A mere handful of malcontent attempted to deprive 50,000 hunters of the right to shoot antlerless deer in those counties and it was their interests we were trying to protect."

" . . . the records of the Game commission are open at all times to any responsible citizen who wishes to inspect them, and we have so instructed our office staff in Harrisburg."

Tompkins asserted he was refused a list of the stricken names by the commission.

Back in Circulation
The OPA officials said the last lot of waste paper sent the York county paper mill "was intercepted by our investigators" after company officials had offered their cooperation. When the bales of waste paper were opened, he asserted sheets of the coupons were found.

The obsolete coupons Loftus added were sent to the salvage company by the national office and the District of Columbia district OPA office "only after the national office notified its regional and district offices that these coupons and certificates involved were obsolete at point of issuance."

He added the salvage firm, after putting the paper through a shredding machine, "re-shipped to the paper mill" but that "some of the coupons and stamps had not been properly destroyed but found their way into illegal circulation."

Rickey Modifies Double A Forecast

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—Branch Rickey said it, but he didn't mean it the way it sounded.

That was the explanation the president of the Brooklyn Dodgers offered yesterday for his recent comment that he "didn't see how the Double A baseball clubs" were going to get through the season.

"When I made that statement I was thinking in terms of the manpower shortage only as applied to our Montreal club, and not of the whole Double A picture."

Speaking to reporters after addressing a breakfast club Rickey said "The Double A clubs are going to play this year. We are going to play in Montreal as long as we are able to field a team, but at the moment I made that statement the problem of obtaining enough players looked puzzling."

Maroons At Carlisle Tonight

This evening the Gettysburg high school basketball team will meet Carlisle high of the Northern Division of the South Penn loop in a game at Carlisle.

Victors in six of eight games this season, Coach Mel Dry's boys are favored to win. However, the brilliant showing made by Carlisle at Hershey last Friday evening has raised the hopes of the Carlisle team for its coming tilt.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Phillies are coming up with a real double-no-hit pitcher this spring—but not just like Johnny Vander Meer. . . . He's Albert "Stumpy" Verdelie, who pitched two consecutive no-hitters for Bordentown (N.J.) Military Institute a few years ago and who compiled quite a record for Fort Dix before he was discharged because of a bad leg. . . .

Stumpy is a native of Punxsutawney, Pa., Rube Waddell's old hangout, and claims he once faced the Yanks for two innings without giving a hit. . . . Anyone could do that by staying in the stands. . . . Abe Greene says the NBA is willing to consider Friday's Sammy Angott-Beau Jack fight a title fuff if the New York commission will agree.

Otherwise, he says, "we shall wind up in the same position we are in today. . . . with two champions. . . . Isn't that assuming something?"

A WACY GAME
When the Fort Sheridan, Illinois, WAC contingent met the American College of Physical Education in a basketball game recently, the girls had plenty of fun—but not the officials. . . . At half time Billy Andrews came out with a chipped tooth where someone's elbow had struck him in a scramble and a little later Lieut. Grant Butler had to take time out to repair some scratches on his hand. . . . "They sure have long finger nails," he complained.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
President Ford Frick of the National league is going to bat to fill the request brought back from Alaska by Frank Frisch, Danny Littlewhaler and company, that one major league game a day should be broadcast, either directly or by recording, to the boys in the armed forces overseas. . . . Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the RFC boss, has a good luck sweater she wears to all the Washington Redskins' games. When the team is on the road, she does it to sit beside the radio. . . . Just 2,750 season tickets for the Illinois State high school basketball tournament will be sold to the general public. . . . Worst pun department: The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's Hovey Boyle calls John Lawther, Penn State court coach, "a gay Lawtherio, in a basketball sense."

SERVICE DEPT.
When Al Popick, former Oregon cager now playing for the Camp Kearns (Utah) Eagles was tossed out of a game last week for four personal fouls, it was the first time he had suffered such a banishment in four years of basketball. . . . According to Nat (Ring magazine) Fleischer's latest figures, Minnesota has about twice as many boxers in the armed forces as any other state. . . . When the North Carolina Navy Pre-Flight wrestlers tackled Duke recently, they carded 26 bouts instead of the usual eight. And it wasn't borrowing a "Hippodrome" finish from pro grappling when a blackout interrupted the deciding heavyweight match two minutes before the finish and delayed the decision for 40 minutes.

Game Tonight May Be Kilrea's Last
(By The Associated Press)
Wally Kilrea, Hershey star, plays what may be his last American Hockey league game tonight when the Bears, Eastern division leaders, tangle with the Cleveland Barons, tops in the Western division, on the Cleveland ice.

Kilrea is scheduled to enter the Army on January 27, but it is possible he may play Saturday night against Providence.

The game is the only one scheduled tonight and the Bears are hopeful of chalking up their first win over the Barons on the Cleveland rink. In two games at Cleveland, the Barons won one, 5 to 2, with the other resulting in a 2-2 tie. In two games at Hershey the Bears won twice, 6 to 3 and 4 to 1.

The battle also pits the league's three highest scorers against each other. Tom Burlington, of the Barons, tops the list with 19 goals and 29 assists for 48 points. His teammate, Lou Trudel, is second with 46 points while Kilrea is third with 45.

DIES OF BURNS
Mi. Pleasant, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Burns suffered January 14 while Charles Sullenberger, 34, of Kecksburg, was battling a grass fire, caused his death yesterday in a hospital here. He was employed by the State highway department.

NEW OXFORD HI DIVIDES PAIR

New Oxford high school's cagers divided a pair of games with Codorus Township high Monday evening at New Oxford.

The New Oxford boys lost their sixth straight 44-33 despite the efforts of J. Haar who landed 21 points for Coach Jack Miller's outfit. At half time Codorus Township led 16-9.

A five-game losing streak was halted by the New Oxford girls who won the preliminary game 22-17 after a hard fight. Seig looped 13 tallies for the victors.

New Oxford will be host to Littlestown high Friday evening.

SPORT SHORTS
New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Major General John J. Phelan, chairman of the State Athletic commission, has called a meeting for Friday to help straighten out the tangled lightweight boxing situation between Beau Jack, Bob Montgomery and Sammy Angott. The meeting will be held before the Jack-Angott non-title bout at Madison Square Garden.

Baltimore, Jan. 25 (AP)—Sgt. Joe Louis' first appearance as guest referee on a 30-day furlough from the Army drew 5,000 fans packed them in the aisles and turned others away last night at the weekly boxing show at the Coliseum.

Harry Jeffra, the two-time world's champion, former holder of the bantamweight and featherweight titles, climbed another notch up the comeback trail, winning an unanimous decision over Frankie Rubino of New York.

ADD SPORT SHORTS—
Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—With 260 players now under contract and expected to report to spring camps, the American league manpower status is in good shape for the opening of the 1944 season, the A. L. service bureau reported today.

Since the close of the 1943 season, 31 players have been called to the colors, increasing to 194 the number of American league men now in the service. Philadelphia with 33 and Detroit with 32 top the league.

Hanover, N. H., Jan. 25 (AP)—Dartmouth and Notre Dame football teams will clash for the first time next Oct. 14 when they meet at Fenway park, Boston, according to an announcement by Dartmouth Athletic Director William H. McCarter.

McCarter said Dartmouth had signed a two-year contract with Notre Dame and that the second game would be held at South Bend, Ind., Oct. 13, 1945. The Boston game will mark the first New England appearance of a Notre Dame eleven.

KILLS SILVER FOX
Reynoldsville, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Norman Leach of nearby Pleasant Valley, was displaying a magnificent pelt of what he said was a black silver fox, which he killed after a hunt of several weeks. It was 45 inches from tip of the nose to tip of the tail and was valued by Leach at "from $100 to $1,000."

STARS IN SERVICE

SHEPPARD NIPS GUS DORAZIO

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Curtis (Hatchet Man) Sheppard, 187-pound Pittsburgh negro, laid claims today to a berth in the top ten heavyweights of the nation as a result of his upset ten-round triumph over Gus Dorazio, 199-pound Philadelphia veteran, generally ranked sixth.

"I'll take 'em, any and all," chuckled the happy Sheppard as he counted his share of the $14,834 receipts contributed by 6,000 fans.

Dorazio's supporters were offering as much as three to one at the ring-side last night before Sheppard showed just why he has been dubbed the "Hatchet Man." His victory was unanimous, the referee awarding him 8 rounds, with one to Dorazio and one even. The judges voted 8-2 and 7-3 in Sheppard's favor.

The negro surprised his followers by his unexpected shift from slugger to boxer, and his use of a left jab. There were no knockdowns but Dorazio suffered a bad cut over his right eye. It was Sheppard's seventh straight victory and ended a row of ten straight for the Philadelphia.

Juste Fontaine, 132, of Milwaukee, a protégé of Fritz Zivie, scored a spectacular knockout over Woody Sweeney, 134, of Pittsburgh, in the fourth of their six rounder.

Phillies Seeking New Team Insignia
Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Phillies have decided there isn't enough identification for a baseball team in a name alone and are now planning to offer a $100 war bond prize to the fan who selects the best insignia for the team.

It may be fish, bird, animal or something from Philadelphia's rich tradition, but it must be synonymous with the city, the club's youthful president, Bob Carpenter said.

"I want an emblem or insignia that is strictly Philadelphia, one that the baseball world will know and respect."

ANSWERS FOES OF DOE SEASON; RECORDS "OPEN"

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Ross L. Leffer, chairman of the State Game commission, replying to criticisms of last month's open doe season, says the commission acted to prevent starvation of deer and "in the interest of the state's sportsmen."

The north central division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs Sunday adopted a resolution charging the commission with using "unfair tactics" in opening the season on antlerless deer in nine northern counties. It authorized a committee to file the protest with Governor Edward Martin.

Leffer, in a statement issued last night, declared:

"The commission acted within its legal rights and responsibility for it is our duty not only to conform with the law but to protect the interests of 640,000 licensed hunters as well as the 9,000,000 residents of Pennsylvania who also have a stake in our wildlife resources."

Records are "Open"
"A mere handful of malcontent attempted to deprive 50,000 hunters of the right to shoot antlerless deer in those counties and it was their interests we were trying to protect."

Regarding charges by District Attorney Edwin T. Tompkins of Cameron county that a number of names had been stricken from a petition to halt the doe season as having been "ineligible to sign, Leffer said:

"The records of the Game commission are open at all times to any responsible citizen who wishes to inspect them, and we have so instructed our office staff in Harrisburg."

Tompkins asserted he was refused a list of the stricken names by the commission.

Judge Rules On Fair Labor Act
Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 25 (AP)—Judge A. D. Barksdale ruled today that the Fair Labor Standards act of 1938 was not intended to force mine operators to pay underground employees for the time they consumed traveling in mines to their places of work.

Handing down a decision in U. S. District court in a "portal-to-portal" test case which attracted wide attention in the bituminous coal industry when it was originated last summer, Judge Barksdale said that he could find nothing in the act which indicated that it was the intent of Congress "to make so radical a change in the wage structure" of the coal industry as to require payment for underground travel time.

Reaction of the operators and UMW to the decision was not immediately available but some coal sources said that it seemed likely that the biggest effect would be to remove from the operators any liability for portal-to-portal back pay for miners prior to April 1. They said there were a few individual suits pending on this angle.

Garbage Mounts As Strike Goes On
Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—City council was called into session again today to consider the garbage situation, as refuse in alleys, backyards and back porches mounted so high from a 12-day strike of garbage truck drivers and their helpers the city health director issued a warning a public menace exists.

Council yesterday passed two ordinances paving the way to return the collection job to private contractors and end the three-year-old municipal system which has been marked by at least eight strikes.

However, council members differed on the specifications, some preferring bids for the work be made on a "lump sum" basis and others that they be on a tonnage basis.

Somerset Couple Has 19th Child

Somerset, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Dayton Tirkko, 42, and her 19th baby are doing fine today, thank you.

That was the report from the home of William Tirkko, a section worker on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who lives in nearby Listie with 14 of the 17 living children.

Twelve of the children are girls and five boys, the oldest 23, in the army in New Jersey and another 20, with the army in Italy. One of the children is married.

The 19th child, a girl, was born last week.

FOUR HELD FOR CIRCULATION OF OLD GAS STAMPS

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP)—Four persons are in custody in Washington in connection with an OPA investigation into the illegal circulation of obsolete ration coupons worth 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline and 15,000,000 gallons of fuel oil, Acting Director Frank J. Loftus, of ed.

Loftus, who telephoned a statement to the Harrisburg office from Washington last night after conferring with national OPA officials, said 23,000 pounds of coupons "obsolete as to issuance but many still valid in hands of consumers" were involved in the case.

He declared five lots of coupons were sent to a Washington salvage firm for destruction and later shipped to a York county concern as waste paper. He added the case was uncovered when the Harrisburg office investigated the appearance of many loose coupons in the vicinity of York in recent months.

While not disclosing the names of those under arrest, Loftus said one was an employee of the salvage firm, which he asserted "has a government contract to buy all Federal agency waste paper in Washington."

He added additional arrests are expected.

Back in Circulation
The OPA officials said the last lot of waste paper sent the York county paper mill "was intercepted by our investigators" after company officials had offered their cooperation. When the bales of waste paper were opened, he asserted sheets of the coupons were found.

The obsolete coupons Loftus added were sent to the salvage company by the national office and the District of Columbia district OPA office "only after the national office notified its regional and district offices that these coupons and certificates involved were obsolete at point of issuance."

He added the salvage firm, after putting the paper through a shredding machine, "re-shipped to the paper mill" but that "some of the coupons and stamps had not been properly destroyed but found their way into illegal circulation."

CHARGE UNION TRIED TO HALT SPEED-UP PLAN

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (CIO) has been charged by the Ford Motor Co., with apparently "using union shop provisions of the contract as a whip to force employees to slow down production" in the Edgewater, N. J., branch of the firm.

Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, made the charge in a letter to R. J. Thomas, International President of the UAW-CIO, in which he refused to discharge two road testers which Bennett said had been expelled from the union because they reduced the time for a specific testing operation from 45 to 15 minutes.

The charge resulted from union efforts to prevent ship-shod work, answered UAW officials. Joseph Eccles, president of the Edgewater Ford local, was quoted by Richard T. Leonard, Ford director of the union as saying, "we don't care how much work they do, but the union demands that they do it right."

Ignore Expulsion
Bennett wrote, "the ability of these men to do their operation speedily and efficiently in one-third the time it has formerly taken aroused resentment among their co-workers and officials of local 906 of your union at the Edgewater plant."

The case, he said, was "very important from the standpoint of establishing a precedent."

"We certainly cannot permit the union to apply the union shop features of our contract in a way that was never intended. The company, must, therefore, refuse to recognize the notice of expulsion."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Alliances."

MOVES AGAINST AXIS IN BOLIVIA ARE FORESEEN
London, Jan. 25 (AP)—Britain joined the United States today in refusing to recognize the new government of Bolivia. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons he believed the coup in that country had been aided by German agents.
Eden said the British government was "in step" with the United States in respect both to diplomatic recognition and economic action and added that the British minister-designate to La Paz would not proceed to his post.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Further joint action by the American republics to uproot and destroy any pro-Axis movements underway in South America was foreshadowed today by refusal of the United States and seven other western hemisphere nations to recognize the revolutionary rulers of Bolivia.
The immediate goal in this diplomatic maneuvering is believed to be a break between Nazi Germany and Argentina, which now is the only American nation maintaining relations with Germany. Talk of Axis intrigue has been linked with the Bolivian revolution so that every development involving Bolivia now is studied closely for its effect on Argentina.
To Await Reactions
That Argentine reaction would not be long in forthcoming became apparent when Foreign Minister Alberto Gilibert announced at Buenos Aires that he would have "important news" momentarily.
His statement was made after conferring with U. S. Ambassador Norman Armour, British Ambassador Sir David Victor Kelly and the German charge d'affaires, Erich Otto Meynen.
The United States non-recognition policy was announced by the State department late yesterday. The statement linked the Bolivian regime with "subversive groups hostile to the Allied cause."
No reference was made to economic sanctions or other measures and the intention of the United States and cooperating governments apparently was to await reaction in Bolivia and Argentina to the purely diplomatic step before doing anything else.
Expect Others To Follow
Along with issuance of the announcement a State department official disclosed that Ambassador Pierre de L. Boal, 48, who has been in La Paz since March, 1942 was being ordered back home.
The next immediate action by the cooperating governments is expected to be announcements in still other American capitals that they also are adopting non-recognition policies. The United States was the fourth nation to act, being preceded by Uruguay, Cuba and Venezuela.
Speculation that Argentina might break relations with the Axis arose from the fact that the Washington announcement on Bolivia omitted all mention of Argentina, although a blast at that nation had been confidently expected by Latin American diplomats here. Several expressed surprise that it was not named and that its suspected link with the Bolivian revolution was not brought out.

Belleville, Ill. (AP)—Burglars who broke into the Elks' club apparently had other ideas for disposing of their loot than making egg-nog.
They emptied a full egg case they found in the kitchen and used it to carry off 44 quarts of whisky.

BOOMERANG
Des Moines (AP)—R. E. Walters, Office of Price Administration director for the Des Moines district, recently became worried over the number of ration books being lost by housewives and motorists.
He ordered that duplicates be issued only after a 30-day waiting period.
Then who loses her ration book; Mrs. R. E. Walters

Renew Hearings On Hopkins Letter Case
Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—A federal grand jury of 23 members took center stage today as the curtain rose on what may be the closing act of the suspense-laden "Hopkins letter thriller."
Others in the dramatic personae, including Interior Secretary Ickes who already has proclaimed that he is not the "villain," and George N. Briggs, his suspended confidential aide, retired offstage to await a possible denouement.
In other words, the next move is up to the grand jury which has before it this line-up of events:
A letter was published in an anti-Wendell L. Willkie book put out by C. Nelson Sparks, of Ohio. The letter, signed with the name of Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's personal advisor who branded it a forgery, purported to give Hopkins' prediction that Willkie would be the Republican presidential nominee this year. It was addressed to Dr. Umphrey Lee, Texas educator who denies having received it.
decided her husband should do the totin'. She came in empty handed.
A third person, however, accepted the burden. When the O'Riley's went out later, the suitcase was gone.

AFL MAY TURN DOWN BID TO WORLD CONFAB
By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
Miami, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—The AFL executive council takes up today the invitation of British labor to attend a world conference in London next June, with advance signs indicating a polite rejection.
Robert J. Watt, International representative of the AFL, was on hand to give the council a report of his recent visit to London and conferences with Sir Walter Citrine, secretary of the British Trades Union Congress. Watt was successful on that visit in having the International Labor Office (ILO) meeting set for Philadelphia in April. The British, it is understood here, would have preferred to hold the meeting in London about the same time as the world labor conference they have called. Watt's maneuver is interpreted as a tipoff to the AFL's views of the proposed world labor conference to which the CIO has accepted an invitation.

Probe Charges Of Spoilage Of Meat
Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—A Senate investigation "was begun today into charges by Senator Thomas (R-Idaho) that "large quantities" of meats have spoiled or had to be destroyed because government officials refused to suspend meat rationing temporarily.
Representatives of independent meat packers were invited to testify suggestion that any International Labor conference should be called by the International Federation of Trades unions. This would obviate the AFL's two objections to a world conference because neither the Soviet nor the CIO is affiliated with the International Federation and would therefore be excluded from such a conference.
The council's decision yesterday to offer John L. Lewis reinstatement only on the basis on which he left in 1936 disposed of that issue probably until May, although a special meeting of the council could be called before then if the AFL and United Mine Workers' committee meanwhile work out some agreement.
The effect of the decision was to reject Lewis' terms and offer him a charter covering the coal and coke industry, with the probable exception of the Illinois territory now organized by the AFL Progressive Mine Workers of America.

before an agriculture subcommittee named to hear Thomas' plea that a rationing holiday be declared to allow consumers to buy up a current surplus, particularly of pork.
In a resolution asking the Senate to go on record as favoring an indefinite rationing recess, Thomas asserted:
"Packers and slaughterers have been compelled to remove surplus meat from storage facilities in order to provide space for new supplies, with the result that large quantities of such (meat) products have been destroyed or allowed to spoil."

WHY?
Why should the best words that brighten our speech
To the children be difficult always to teach?
And why without effort should youngsters acquire
The epithets evil of neighbor or sire?
Yet never a parent but what has been stirred
By a child's repetition of speech overheard.

If the garbage can slips from the scavenger's grip
And some evil expression escapes from his lip;
When the child, within hearing, drops saucer or cup,
His folks will be shocked by the words he's picked up,
And they'll say to each other:
"Good gracious, my dear,
Whenever, wherever such things did he hear?"

This fact I have wished right about could be turned,
That what's good, not what's bad, could be easily learned.
But the way of all children when grown-ups are near
Is to pick up the worst of the language they hear.
And they pick up that emphasis, too, with the vice
Which they never quite manage with speech that is nice.

Yet here is a truth often misunderstood:
Not easily mortals were meant to be good.
The traits men admire are not lightly attained.
Skill, wisdom and honor by practice are gained.
'Tis only the bad that's acquired from the start.
To live to life's best is the difficult art.

SO LITTLE
No matter how much any of us are able to do, during these perilous days, it is so little as compared to what our brave boys in the front lines are called upon to do. There is the real sacrifice.
There was tragic humor to a photograph that I saw in my newspaper recently. It showed a soldier boy in the South Pacific putting up a crude sign, apparently adjoining the mess shack, stating that meat was rationed out there so that there might be plenty for "the home front!"
It is difficult to understand, moreover, why such an abominable thing as a "black market" can be allowed to exist for a single day in a free democracy. It's about time that we adopted that famous phrase "All for one and one for all" as a motto, at least for so long as this war continues.
Every minute of the day and night our boys are upon the perilous seas, in the air, and fighting upon many a foreign land. Upon crude hospital cots and beds, and among strange surroundings, they lie thinking of home and loved ones. They are giving their all to preserve the liberty and freedom that we have all so much enjoyed for so long. No privation or sacrifice on our part can possibly compare to what they so bravely go through.
Nothing that is asked by our government is too much for us to do, whether it be in the form of taxes the saving of paper, scrap, the buying of bonds, the going without beyond our rationing, or whatever it may be that is required of us—it's all so little!
The sending of a letter to a boy overseas is an act in itself so little, but it is so big to them. But write a cheerful letter—no bad news—and tell him interesting things about

You'll be glad this neighbor asked you to Buy Bonds

ONE day soon, a neighbor may stop by to talk about the Fourth War Loan and the share your locality is expected to play in it. Or, he may talk at a War Bond rally at the high school. Chances are he'll ask if you'll buy more Bonds. Will you look on it as a request for a donation? Or will you look on it as an opportunity to build up the financial reserve every business-like farmer or rancher has to have to run his place profitably?

No need to tell you it takes money to run a war. No need to tell you it's your war, your liberty at stake. But we're all human and just a little bit given to "letting George do it." Only this time we're all George. We've got to do it! And in buying those Bonds, we're doing ourselves as big a service as we are our fighting men and our country. We're building strength—personal financial strength—with which to meet the inevitable problems of tomorrow.

Something Worth Buying

Maybe you have a son off at war. What a homecoming when he gets into his jeans and you've both got those Bonds to fall back on for the machinery and equipment and buildings you'll be needing in the future. And how about the education you've promised yourself you'd give your children? And that long vacation in the sunshine you and your wife have so long deserved? The only way to have these things is to save the money now. U. S. War Bonds are the safest and most liquid investment you can make for these future needs—needs worth providing for!

MOVES AGAINST

ARE FORESEEN

London, Jan. 25 (AP)—Britain joined the United States today in refusing to recognize the new government of Bolivia. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Commons he believed the coup in that country had been aided by German agents. Eden said the British government was "in step" with the United States in respect both to diplomatic recognition and economic action and added that the British minister-designate to La Paz would not proceed to his post.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Further joint action by the American republics to uproot and destroy any pro-Axis movements underway in South America was foreshadowed today by refusal of the United States and seven other western hemisphere nations to recognize the revolutionary rulers of Bolivia.

The immediate goal in this diplomatic maneuvering is believed to be a break between Nazi Germany and Argentina, which now is the only American nation maintaining relations with Germany. Talk of Axis intrigue has been linked with the Bolivian revolution so that every development involving Bolivia now is studied closely for its effect on Argentina.

To Await Reactions
That Argentine reaction would not be long in forthcoming became apparent when Foreign Minister Alberto Gilbert announced at Buenos Aires that he would have "important news" momentarily.

His statement was made after conferring with U. S. Ambassador Norman Armour, British Ambassador Sir David Victor Kelly and the German charge d'affaires, Erich Otto Meynen.

The United States non-recognition policy was announced by the State department late yesterday. The statement linked the Bolivian regime with "subversive groups hostile to the Allied cause."

No reference was made to economic sanctions or other measures and the intention of the United States and cooperating governments apparently was to await reaction in Bolivia and Argentina to the purely diplomatic step before doing anything else.

Expect Others To Follow
Along with issuance of the announcement a State department official disclosed that Ambassador Pierre de La Boal, 48, who has been in La Paz since March, 1942 was being ordered back home.

The next immediate action by the cooperating governments is expected to be announcements in still other American capitals that they also are adopting non-recognition policies. The United States was the fourth nation to act, being preceded by Uruguay, Cuba and Venezuela.

Speculation that Argentina might break relations with the Axis arose from the fact that the Washington announcement on Bolivia omitted all mention of Argentina, although a blast at that nation had been confidently expected by Latin American diplomats here. Several expressed surprise that it was not named and that its suspected link with the Bolivian revolution was not brought out.

Flashes of Life

LIKE IT STRAIGHT

Belleville, Ill. (AP)—Burglars who broke into the Elks club apparently had other ideas for disposing of their loot than making egg-nog.

They emptied a full egg case they found in the kitchen and used it to carry off 44 quarts of whisky.

BOOMERANG

Des Moines (AP)—R. E. Walters, Office of Price Administration director for the Des Moines district, recently became worried over the number of ration books being lost by housewives and motorists.

He ordered that duplicates be issued only after a 30-day waiting period.

Then who loses her ration book? Mrs. R. E. Walters.

BUT NOW?

Los Angeles (AP)—Chief Jailer Robert Fisher swears it's so:

Sixteen year-old Ponciano Pena wriggled through a 14th story window, measuring 12½ by 6½ inches, at the county jail.

A deputy sheriff caught him—on a 10th floor outside balcony.

Renew Hearings On
Hopkins Letter Case

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—A federal grand jury of 23 members took center stage today as the curtain rose on what may be the closing act of the suspense-laden "Hopkins letter thriller."

Others in the dramatic personnel, including Interior Secretary Ickes who already has proclaimed that he is not the "villain," and George N. Briggs, his suspended confidential aide, retired offstage to await a possible denouement.

In other words, the next move is up to the grand jury which has before it this line-up of events:

A letter was published in an anti-Wendell L. Willkie book put out by C. Nelson Sparks, of Ohio. The letter, signed with the name of Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's personal advisor who branded it a forgery, purported to give Hopkins' prediction that Willkie would be the Republican presidential nominee this year. It was addressed to Dr. Umphrey Lee, Texas educator who denies having received it.

He decided her husband should do the totin'. She came in empty handed.

A third person, however, accepted the burden. When the O'Riley's went out later, the suitcase was gone.

AFL MAY TURN DOWN BID TO WORLD CONFAB

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Miami, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—The AFL executive council takes up today the invitation of British labor to attend a world conference in London next June, with advance signs indicating a polite rejection.

Robert J. Watt, international representative of the AFL, was on hand to give the council a report of his recent visit to London and conferences with Sir Walter Citrine, secretary of the British Trades Union Congress. Watt was successful on that visit in having the International Labor Office (ILO) meeting set for Philadelphia in April. The British, it is understood here, would have preferred to hold the meeting in London about the same time as the world labor conference they have called. Watt's maneuver is interpreted as a tipoff to the AFL's views of the proposed world labor conference to which the CIO has accepted an invitation.

Counter Suggestion

The ILO is a tripartite organization of government, industry and labor representatives. The AFL may make a counter

Probe Charges Of Spoilage Of Meat

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—A Senate investigation was begun today into charges by Senator Thomas (R-Idaho) that "large quantities" of meats have spoiled or had to be destroyed because government officials refused to suspend meat rationing temporarily.

Representatives of independent meat packers were invited to testify suggestion that any International Labor conference should be called by the International Federation of Trades unions. This would obviate the AFL's two objections to a world conference because neither the Soviet nor the CIO is affiliated with the International Federation and would therefore be excluded from such a conference.

The council's decision yesterday to offer John L. Lewis reinstatement only on the basis on which he left in 1936 disposed of that issue probably until May, although a special meeting of the council could be called before then if the AFL and United Mine Workers' committee meanwhile work out some agreement.

The effect of the decision was to reject Lewis' terms and offer him a charter covering the coal and coke industry, with the probable exception of the Illinois territory now organized by the AFL Progressive Mine Workers of America.

before an agriculture subcommittee named to hear Thomas' plea that a rationing holiday be declared to allow consumers to buy up a current surplus, particularly of pork.

In a resolution asking the Senate to go on record as favoring an indefinite rationing recess, Thomas asserted:

"Packers and slaughterers have been compelled to remove surplus meat from storage facilities in order to provide space for new supplies, with the result that large quantities of such (meat) products have been destroyed or allowed to spoil."

The National Park System of the United States—including recreational areas, monuments and cemeteries as well as parks—now totals 21,613,543 acres.

That's what this war's about. That's what Victory will be for. That's what I want when I come home.

Display advertisement by Nash-Kelco Interior Corporation

Yes, that's what our men are fighting for and that's what they will want when they come home.

We on the home front cannot share their foxholes and slit trenches, their mud and cold and rain . . . their loneliness and their sufferings . . . but we can do many other things such as saving waste paper, scrap metal, fats and tin cans and such things that are vitally needed in the war effort . . . things that will give those fighters of ours the essentials to destroy the enemy and hasten their return to the things they want at home.

And, then, of course, there is that matter of war bonds. How essentially important it is that we buy war bonds to buy those sinews of war that will speed the Victory.

Don't quibble over the cost of the war. It is mighty expensive, terribly so. But we cannot measure Victory with dollars. How much would you pay to save just one life . . . perhaps your own son's, or your brother's, your father's?

Let's all buy an extra bond during this Fourth War Bond drive and prove again that we are backing our men on the fighting fronts . . . so that they will come back . . . soon.

COUNTY BOARD

district had sick-leave arrangements such teachers would be able to remain at home to recover from their illnesses and a substitute could be hired to teach during the regular teacher's absence.

Under plans discussed Monday night the teachers would receive full pay for absences up to a certain number of days, if the absences were due to illness. There are 53 different plans in use in the state, it was said, with the amount of permitted absences ranging from two to ten days. In Franklin township the number of days allowed is three. Some members of the county board thought five days would be more advisable with the number of days to become accumulative so that a teacher who had served without loss of a day for several years would not be penalized if she became ill for some time after a long period of perfect service.

Promote State Meet
The board also discussed the possibilities of extending sick leave to cover quarantine, death in the immediate family or other instances where the teacher through no fault of her own was forced to stay away from school.

Most board members felt that by providing sick leaves many of the better teachers would remain in the county school system. "The better teachers can go anywhere and find employment," one member said, "and as a result they seek out the place where they have the best conditions of work."

The board approved the applications for teacher appropriations for all school districts and urged every local school board in the county to send delegates to the state school directors convention at Harrisburg February 2 and 3. Zeal R. Peters was named delegate. Most of the remaining board members also stated they planned to attend the sessions. The board voted a change in the payments for the mid-year examinations. Previously the tests were paid for by the county superintendent's office. In the future they will be paid for by the local boards.

PCBL Council To Purchase War Bond

Purchase of a war bond during the current Fourth War Loan drive was voted Monday evening by the Queen of Peace Council of the PCBL at its regular meeting in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier school. A donation of $5 was made to Troop 78 of the Boy Scouts and it was decided to hold a Valentine party at the next meeting, February 14. Miss Mary Ramer was appointed publicity chairman. A bingo party was held for the members following the regular business meeting at which Mrs. Salena Menchey, president, presided.

AIR ASSAULTS CONTINUE ON REICH AREAS

London, Jan. 25 (AP)—Large formations of Allied aircraft swept out across the English channel to hammer European targets by daylight Monday after RAF Mosquitoes had stabbed at western Germany last night and slipped back through the Nazis' defenses without loss.

British planes also laid mines in enemy waters, the air ministry said. The communiqué mentioned no other overnight operations, though a wide continental radio blackout and reports from Sweden had indicated previously that targets in southeastern Europe might have been under attack.

U. S. Marauders and RAF medium bombers attacked military objectives in northern France in the sweeps Monday, it was said authoritatively. The bombers were escorted by RAF, Dominion and Allied fighting planes. The day raiders took off shortly after dawn and headed in the direction of the Pas de Calais area in northern France, which was bombed by both British and American planes Sunday.

Coastal observers who saw the planes streaking over southern England said they included waves of medium bombers escorted by many fighters. Some of the aircraft were seen returning from the direction of Boulogne, Dieppe and Calais 15 minutes later.

Sunday's attacks were directed chiefly against Nazi installations in the Pas de Calais area of France. Two Nazi airfields in France and Holland also were blasted.

More than 200 American Marauders bombed the French invasion coast area with 300 tons of explosives.

Throughout the day-long air activity, however, the Germans lost five planes. The Allies listed one Marauder and one fighter as missing.

FLIGHT FROM LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

Yesterday, Julie is thrilled when Dave comes home to a hero's welcome, but at the party in his honor she gets a great shock. Dave tells her that they no longer think alike, and so they will not be married.

Chapter 3
Harriet Brampton was sipping her coffee the sunny morning after Dave's party with a virtuous sense of accomplishment. "A tremendous undertaking most delightfully handled," the Mayor would undoubtedly tell her when he called. There would be many others calling too. They would have called even if it hadn't been successful, of course. But it pleased her to know their praise would be sincere.

"You can go on about your work," she smiled at the maid. "I'm sure Miss Julie won't want her tray for hours."

"Miss Julie had her tray half an hour ago ma'am."

Harriet stared at the girl. "But whatever would get the child up at this hour after a party?"

The maid looked respectfully blank. Harriet drank her coffee hurriedly. It couldn't be possible Julie and Dave had planned to elope! The thought moved her to instant action. She walked quickly down the wide, sunlit hall to knock on Julie's door.

Julie called, "Come in."

She was pulling on a scarlet felt hat before her long mirror and she didn't turn. There was tensed strain in every jerked movement of her slender, white-suited figure. She said in a low voice that was almost a monotone, "I'm taking the eight train to California, Mother."

Harriet Brampton cried, "Julie!" But even as she uttered the word her fear of elopement died. Julie's voice was not the tremulous bridal quaver. It was the bleak hard tone of a runaway. She and David had quarreled! She was flying off in a huff. Well, that was better than her wild idea of marrying. Harriet felt relieved and cheerful.

She said, "But why California?"

"It was the first train that went through," Julie said shortly. "The station agent is flagging it for me." Harriet watched her daughter snapping shut her luggage. She noticed with a pang of sympathy it was just three suitcases. Her quota as an officer's wife. She moved to the bed and sank down on it. "Look, darling, why don't you wait and think it over today. You can always go tomorrow."

Julie said harshly "No!"

"Have you any money?"

Julie picked up bag and gloves. "About seventy-five dollars," she said tonelessly. "I ought to be able to get some kind of reservation."

"Julie, you can't start out like this. What would you do when you got there?"

James came in in after a quick knock, and got her suitcases.

"I don't know," said Julie without interest. She stopped and kissed Harriet. "Goodbye, mother."

Harriet called, "Wait a minute!" She was thinking fast. Instinctively she knew this moment would tell whether she would keep Julie or lose her. She went quickly down the wide hall to her room and returned, purse in hand.

"Here's a hundred and thirty more," she shoved the bills into Julie's gloved fingers. "Get a drawing room and some rest. And go to the Ambassador when you get to Los Angeles." She smiled and patted Julie's white cheek fondly. "I think this is a good idea of yours, chief. I'll see Brownley today and arrange to close up the house and join you. He'll have money there for you when you arrive. Get some clothes—amuse yourself. Have a good time!"

The big car wound down the hill at top speed, spinning around corners, leaping ahead with a roar when they got to level highway.

They shot into the station yard as the train swung around the bend three miles up the valley. The station agent was standing besides the tracks with his flag. When he saw them, he jumped the rail and began waving the flag with both arms.

Julie stumbled after James, carrying the smallest of her suitcases. Her breath was coming in excited sobs.

The engine shone in the bright morning sun as it rushed down the gleaming miles of track toward them, its speed seeming to increase as it drew nearer.

"It isn't going to stop!" wailed Julie.

The station agent waved harder. He began to shout as if that would help.

He jumped back across the tracks and stood panting besides James and Julie, taking off his cap and mopping his grinning red face.

"Wouldn't do that for anybody but you, Julie."

Hope flared up in Julie again, though the engine seemed to be hurtling on as fast as before. Now she could hear the hiss and screech of pulling brakes. The train slid slower and slower. But it was still going too fast when it shot by the small station.

"You'll have to run for it!" called the station agent. He picked up the bag Julie had carried and ran beside Julie down the length of the platform. A hundred yards up the track they reached the observation car.

A man was standing on it watching them come, Julie in her white suit and scarlet accessories flying along between her luggage laden escorts. He leaned down and put out a hand. Julie grabbed it and climbed the steps of the car. A porter appeared in the doorway to take the suitcases from James.

The man who had helped her on was smiling beside her. "You can thank me next," he said. Julie swung around and looked at him. He was of slender build, faultless. He had black hair, less groomed. He had black hair and dark alert, and restless eyes. He was regarding her with a grave twinkle.

"You run beautifully," he said. "And you look beautiful after running. You must be important in

Police Of 12 States To Meet At Hershey

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—State police commanding officers from 12 northeastern states will meet here Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 to discuss current and postwar police problems in one of a series of regional conferences called by the state and provincial section, International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania state police, who will preside, said the conference your town to have them flag the train for you."

"After that," said Julie stiffly, "I suppose it's my turn to thank you." She moved abruptly away from him, following the porter into the car.

"I'd like a drawing room," she was saying as the door closed on her.

the near future. It was announced that $180.65 in cash had been secured from the business section and main streets of Gettysburg and that generous donations had been made in Gettysburg, York Springs, Emmittsburg, Littlestown and Fairfield. The Rev. Howard Schley Fox told of his findings "both as a patient and a minister" at the hospital. He praised the assistance of the nurses in conducting baptismal or death rites. He added that he has always found everything in proper order at the hospital and had always received the best of attention.

Mrs. Riden poured at the tea held following the meeting. The floral centerpieces and corsages for the officers were donated for the tea by the Wayside Flower shop.

That's what this war's about. That's what Victory will be for. That's what I want when I come home.

Display advertisement by Nash-Kelvinator Corporation

Yes, that's what our men are fighting for and that's what they will want when they come home.

We on the home front cannot share their foxholes and slit trenches, their mud and cold and rain... their loneliness and their sufferings... but we can do many other things such as saving waste paper, scrap metal, fats and tin cans and such things that are vitally needed in the war effort... things that will give those fighters of ours the essentials to destroy the enemy and hasten their return to the things they want at home.

And, then, of course, there is that matter of war bonds. How essentially important it is that we buy war bonds to buy those shewas of war that will speed the Victory.

Don't quibble over the cost of the war. It is mighty expensive, terribly so. But we cannot measure Victory with dollars. How much would you pay to save just one life... perhaps your own son's, or your brother's, your father's?

Let's all buy an extra bond during this Fourth War Bond drive and prove again that we are backing our men on the fighting fronts... so that they will come back... soon.

COUNTY BOARD

district had sick-leave arrangements such teachers would be able to remain at home to recover from their illnesses and a substitute could be hired to teach during the regular teacher's absence.

Under plans discussed Monday night the teachers would receive full pay for absences up to a certain number of days, if the absences were due to illness. There are 53 different plans in use in the state, it was said, with the amount of permitted absences ranging from two to ten days. In Franklin township the number of days allowed is three. Some members of the county board thought five days would be more advisable with the number of days to become accumulative so that a teacher who had served without loss of a day for several years would not be penalized if she became ill for some time after a long period of perfect service.

Promote State Meet

The board also discussed the possibilities of extending sick leave to cover quarantine, death in the immediate family or other instances where the teacher through no fault of her own was forced to stay away from school.

Most board members felt that by providing sick leaves many of the better teachers would remain in the county school system. "The better teachers can go anywhere and find employment," one member said, "and as a result they seek out the place where they have the best conditions of work."

The board approved the applications for teacher appropriations for all school districts and urged every local school board in the county to send delegates to the state school directors convention at Harrisburg February 2 and 3. Zeal R. Peters was named delegate. Most of the remaining board members also stated they planned to attend the sessions. The board voted a change in the payments for the mid-year examinations. Previously the tests were paid for by the county superintendent's office. In the future they will be paid for by the local boards.

PCBL Council To Purchase War Bond

Purchase of a war bond during the current Fourth War Loan drive was voted Monday evening by the Queen of Peace Council of the PCBL at its regular meeting in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier school.

A donation of $5 was made to Troop 78 of the Boy Scouts and it was decided to hold a Valentine party at the next meeting, February 14. Miss Mary Ramer was appointed publicity chairman. A bingo party was held for the members following the regular business meeting at which Mrs. Salena Menchey, president, presided.

AIR ASSAULTS CONTINUE ON REICH AREAS

London, Jan. 25 (AP)—Large formations of Allied aircraft swept out across the English channel to hammer European targets by daylight Monday after RAF Mosquitoes had stabbed at western Germany last night and slipped back through the Nazis' defenses without loss.

British planes also laid mines in enemy waters, the air ministry said. The communiqué mentioned no other overnight operations, though a wide continental radio blackout and reports from Sweden had indicated previously that targets in southeastern Europe might have been under attack.

U. S. Marauders and RAF medium bombers attacked military objectives in northern France in the sweeps Monday, it was said authoritatively. The bombers were escorted by RAF, Dominion and Allied fighting planes.

The day raiders took off shortly after dawn and headed in the direction of the Pas de Calais area in northern France, which was bombed by both British and American planes Sunday.

Blast Airfields

Coastal observers who saw the planes streaking out over southern England said they included waves of medium bombers escorted by many fighters. Some of the aircraft were seen returning from the direction of Boulogne, Dieppe and Calais 15 minutes later.

Sunday's attacks were directed chiefly against Nazi installations in the Pas de Calais area of France. Two Nazi airfields in France and Holland also were blasted.

More than 200 American Marauders bombed the French invasion coast area with 300 tons of explosives.

Throughout the day-long air activity, however, the Germans lost five planes. The Allies listed one Marauder and one fighter as missing.

Penn State Alumni Plan Next Meeting

Plans for a meeting March 10 at which the new placement service of State College will be explained were made by the county chapter of the Pennsylvania State College Alumni at its meeting Monday evening at the Hotel Eberhart. Alumni Secretary Edward Hishman and the placement service head, George Leech, will attend the session of the local chapter at that time.

Albert Fisher, Gettysburg; John Kratzert, New Oxford; and Fred Griest, Jr., Flora Dale, were named as a program committee for the alumni. Dr. J. Walter Coleman, president of the chapter, presided.

FLIGHT from LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

Yesterday: Julie is thrilled when Dave comes home to a hero's welcome, but at the party in his honor she gets a great shock. Dave tells her that they no longer think alike, and so they will not be married.

Chapter 3

Harriet Brampton was sipping her coffee the sunny morning after Dave's party with a virtuous sense of accomplishment. "A tremendous undertaking most delightfully handled," the Mayor would undoubtedly tell her when he called. There would be many others calling too. They would have called even if it hadn't been successful, of course. But it pleased her to know their praise would be sincere.

"You can go on about your work," she smiled at the maid. "I'm sure Miss Julie won't want her tray for hours."

"Miss Julie had her tray half an hour ago ma'am."

Harriet stared at the girl. "But whatever would get the child up at this hour after a party?"

The maid looked respectfully blank. Harriet drank her coffee hurriedly. It couldn't be possible Julie and Dave had planned to elope! The thought moved her to instant action. She walked quickly down the wide, sunlit hall to knock on Julie's door.

Julie called, "Come in."

She was pulling on a scarlet felt hat before her long mirror and she didn't turn. There was tensed strain in every jerked movement of her slender, white-suited figure. She said in a low voice that was almost a monotone, "I'm taking the eight-train to California, Mother."

Harriet Brampton cried, "Julie!" But even as she uttered the word her fear of elopement died. Julie's voice was not the tremulous bridal quaver. It was the bleak hard tone of a runaway. She and David had quarreled! She was flying off in a huff. Well, that was better than her wild idea of marrying. Harriet felt relieved and cheerful.

She said, "But why California?" "It was the first train that went through," Julie said shortly. "The station agent is flagging it for me."

Harriet watched her daughter snapping shut her luggage. She noticed with a pang of sympathy it was just three suitcases. Her quota as an officer's wife. She moved to the bed and sank down on it. "Look, darling, why don't you wait and think it over today. You can always go tomorrow."

Julie said harshly "No!" "Have you any money?"

Julie picked up bag and gloves. "About seventy-five dollars," she said tonelessly. "I ought to be able to get some kind of reservation."

"Julie, you can't start out like this. What would you do when you got there?"

James came in in after a quick knock, and got her suitcases. "I don't know," said Julie without interest. She stopped and kissed Harriet. "Goodbye, mother."

Harriet called, "Wait a minute!" She was thinking fast. Instinctively she knew this moment would tell

Police Of 12 States To Meet At Hershey

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—State police commanding officers from 12 northeastern states will meet here Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 to discuss current and postwar police problems in one of a series of regional conferences called by the state and provincial section, International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania state police, who will preside, said the conference your town to have them flag the train for you."

"After that," said Julie stiffly, "I suppose it's my turn to thank you." She moved abruptly away from him, following the porter into the car.

"I'd like a drawing room," she was saying as the door closed on her.

ence will "afford state police superintendents an opportunity to confer on important current and future problems" and added "we will try to find out what's going to be required of us."

Speakers on the conference program include Michael P. Morrissey, President, International Association of Chiefs of Police; Bruce Smith, Institute of Public Administration, New York City; Norman Damon, vice president, Automotive Safety Foundation; Carrolle Mealy, regional representative, National Safety Council; Major Samuel Gearhart, president, Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association; and T. E. Transeau, director of highway safety, Pennsylvania.

States' Rights Block Service Vote

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The "state's rights" issue which blocked the senate's first attempt to set up a uniform absentee voting system for the armed forces came back today to harass backers of a revived federal war ballot plan.

And it was only one of a score of objections standing in the path of a new service vote bill which sponsors hurried onto the senate floor in an effort to undo an earlier decision leaving it up to the states to collect their own votes from the fighting fronts.

The new bill retains a federal ballot form for President, vice president and congress and sets up a bipartisan federal ballot commission. But it gives local election officials complete authority to pass on the validity of ballots cast under the plan.

Burglar Considine Dies At 63 In Prison

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Robert Considine, an internationally known burglar who spent more than 40 of his 63 years in prisons in England, South Africa and the United States, died yesterday of a brain hemorrhage in Western penitentiary.

Records show Considine entered the United States in 1922 after serving sentences in London and Cape-town and Johannesburg. He also was sentenced several times in California.

New Episcopal Bishop Installed

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Very Rev. Austin Pardue, 44-year-old former dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, of Buffalo, New York, today was installed as fourth bishop of the Pittsburgh Episcopal diocese in a solemn ceremony before 1,500 persons in Trinity cathedral.

Presiding Bishop Henry St. George Tucker of the Episcopal church in the United States performed the rite of consecration during the two and one-half hour ritual which opened with a procession headed by the crucifers and choir of the cathedral.

Eight other bishops and many dignitaries of the church were present as was the Rt. Rev. Alexander Mann 83, who retired as bishop last fall after serving here for 20 years.

Holy Communion was served to the new bishop and his family and the officiating clergy, followed by the sermon and consecration.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

Erected at Titusville, Pa., where Col. Edwin Drake sank the first oil well in the Keystone state, stands Charles Henry Niehaus' heroic monument, "The Driller."

Millions of peaceful Ukrainian peasants have died, millions more are in slavery because Germany covets the rich oil fields of the Caucasus. We help them — we help ourselves when we buy War Bonds.

States' Rights Block Service Vote

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The "states' rights" issue which blocked the senate's first attempt to set up a uniform absentee voting system for the armed forces came back today to harass backers of a revived federal war ballot plan.

And it was only one of a score of objections standing in the path of a new service vote bill which sponsors hurried onto the senate floor in an effort to undo an earlier decision leaving it up to the states to collect their own votes from the fighting fronts.

The new bill retains a federal ballot form for President, vice president and congress and sets up a bipartisan federal ballot commission. But it gives local election officials complete authority to pass on the validity of ballots cast under the plan.

Burglar Considine Dies At 63 In Prison

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—Robert Considine, an internationally known burglar who spent more than 40 of his 63 years in prisons in England, South Africa and the United States, died yesterday of a brain hemorrhage in Western penitentiary.

Records show Considine entered the United States in 1922 after serving sentences in London and Cape-town and Johannesburg. He also was sentenced several times in California before pleading guilty here in October, 1931, to charges of participating with a gang in a series of more than 100 robberies and burglaries.

In December, 1931, he was given three separate terms of five to ten years, each to run consecutively.

MINER INJURED

Somerset, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—A slate fall in the Baker Whitley coal mine at Hooversville yesterday fatally injured Jesse Gentile, 50, a miner.
